Possible Location Of British Submarine Is Reported

DIVERS ARE SENT DOWN IN CHANNEL

Slight Tappings Below Surface Reported By One of Searching Vessels

SEE OIL ON SURFACE

Spot Where Lost Undersea Craft Reported is Two Miles From Abbotsbury

PORTLAND, Eng., Jan. 28.—(UP)—The destroyer Thruster, searching for the missing submarine M-2, has detected slight tappings below the surface of the channel, the captain of the Portland dock yard announced today.

The announcement, which previously had been denied, gave rise to hope that the submarine had been located and perhaps there was life aboard.

The destroyer Sabre reported at 1:40 p. m. when it dropped anchor in the channel, that a quantity of oil rose to the surface. It was thought possible someone alive on the M-2 had heard the noise of the dropping anchor and released oil in an attempt to show the submarine's position.

The Thruster reported the tappings to the submarine mother ship Titania.

Divers were descending to the spot this afternoon, two and one-half miles off Abbotsbury.

In addition to the tapping a considerable quantity of oil rose to the surface, extending four or five miles south of Portland Bill. It gave naval circles the faint hope it was a signal from the men in the submarine.

Supporting the theory, a message from a seaplane said oil was still rising. The position was near where the vessels Tynesider and Crown of Denmark reported lights and explosions Tuesday.

A mine sweeper located an obstruction near the surface oil film. A diver was sent down and reached bottom easily. The mine sweeper was not able to reach bottom with a mine sweep because of an adverse tide.

Preparations were made to send a second diver below and it was thought he would have no difficulty in reaching the obstruction.

NEW CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS TO AID JOBLESS TO BE STARTED

COUNCIL LETS CONTRACT FOR MUSEUM HERE

William Rohrbacher Given Work on $54,080 Bid Last Evening

THE SANTA ANA city council in special session last night awarded the contract for the building of the Charles E. Bowers Memorial Museum to William Rohrbacher, Santa Ana contractor, who was declared the lowest responsible bidder, on his bid of $54,080.

In making the motion selecting Rohrbacher as the contractor, Councilman J. L. McBride included the phrase that the work on the new project must be actually started on or before February 15.

The contract was awarded last night, although some of the security of the Bowers estate, which is handled by the First National bank, are unsold and therefore the estate not liquidated, but the council as well as members of the special committee appointed by the city to aid in the building plans, were of the opinion that the estate was in good condition and that the money would be available by the time the cash was needed.

Discard Alternates Some $24,000 of the estate is tied up in securities and only about $38,000 is available at this time, it is said.

The council also ordered the check for $6000 which accompanied the bid of Therman Means, second lowest bidder, returned. Means' bid was $24,500 for the museum.

Some discussion was had last night regarding the 11 alternates which each bidder incorporated in his bid, but the new historical building is to be erected without any alternates being taken, the council decided.

Because of the fact that the bids were all within the means of the Bowers' estate, it was not thought advisable to change the original plans by installing cheaper material.

Hole In Fence At Border Proves Costly

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Th a "hole-in-the-fence" at the international border proved an expensive accommodation today for Mrs. C. B. George, wife of a wealthy Cincinnati, O., architect.

Mrs. George reported to officers at the border last night she had lost an $18,000 diamond and platinum brooch while crawling through the fence.

Several Mexican and American officers searched the sage-brush near the fence but were unable to find any trace of the valuable brooch.

The Georges are reported living in Los Angeles for the winter and were to leave here today for a visit with relatives in Denver.

The "hole-in-the-fence" is used by Americans to return to the United States after the official 6 p. m. closing time at the border.

TWO MEASURES SUBMITTED BY HIRAM JOHNSON

Provides for Future Supervision of Foreign Bond Transactions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who instituted the senate's investigation of foreign bond flotations in the United States, introduced in the senate today bills to provide for future supervision of such transactions and requiring full publicity for all operations. The bills were referred to the judiciary committee.

Connections of the Mellon-Morgan Barco oil concession and the activities of the state department in passing on foreign bond issues now in default will be aired by Johnson in a senate speech next week. He will touch also upon the $400,000 commission received on a Peruvian loan by the son of the president of Peru, as well as other spectacular disclosures made since early December.

One of Johnson's bills is drastic. It would set up a foreign loan board to pass on all future foreign issues. The board would be composed of the secretary of state and commerce and the governor of the federal reserve board. Nobody would be permitted to make a foreign loan without approval of this board.

The second bill is milder. It suggests that those who propose to issue foreign bonds should report all details to the secretary of commerce.

Committee In Meeting Last Night

Unanimous Vote of Confidence Given Executive Officers of Group

WITH THE NUMBER of unemployed registering with the Citizens' Unemployment Emergency Relief constantly increasing, plans were made yesterday by members of the committee to launch an intensive campaign for funds with which to carry on relief work.

In an effort to minimize the new plan. Suggestion was made to utilize gas tax funds for relief and also other road funds since the county now has a fine system of roads.

Motion to launch the drive was made by Mayor John Knox. His motion was that Chairman Herbert Rankin appoint a committee of three men with power to act in the selection of public spirited men to aid in the campaign. The motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

Decision to campaign for funds with which to carry on the work of the committee followed a unanimous vote of confidence in the executive officers of the committee. Confidence in Robert Speed, executive secretary of the organization and other officers, who were subjected to an attack recently, was urged by speakers who pointed out that recent developments have vindicated those officers in their statements that the situation here is critical.

In an effort to minimize the work of the committee in an apparent effort to halt its functioning, the attack made the statement that there was no need for the committee as Santa Ana had no unemployment situation.

Fund Runs Low

In recent meetings the supervisors have declared that the county welfare fund is nearing exhaustion and approximately 3000 heads of families in the county, of which 1000 are residents of Santa Ana will have to be cut off the county payroll maintained for relief work. They have indicated that the burden of future relief will have to rest on the various communities.

Registration figures at the office of the Citizens' Unemployment Emergency Relief committee are showing an alarming increase. In December there were 514 men and

SETTLEMENT IS DISRUPTED

BULLETIN

SHANGHAI, Friday, Jan. 29.—(UP)—Aerial bombs and hand grenades were used by Japanese early today in attacking North China station, which has been held by Chinese forces.

At 3:35 a. m., the station was afire, ignited by hand grenades. The aerial bombardment followed, and represented the first time a foreign power had made an aerial attack on China proper.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.—(Friday)—(UP)—The Japanese shelled the Woosung forts defending Shanghai during the night, marched into Chapei, the native city of Shanghai and were engaged early this morning in heavy battle with the Chinese.

Japanese reinforcements were sent into Chapei to support the Japanese marines.

Events in the momentous Japanese drive on Shanghai followed in dizzying succession all during the night.

Japanese war craft came into the harbor yesterday to increase the force already there; landed marines; and after at first indicating a delay in the occupation of the city, dropped shells into the Woosung forts to silence them, and moved into Chapei, the native section of Shanghai.

The night was black, with scudding storm clouds obscuring the moon.

A United Press correspondent accompanied the Japanese into Chapei. The natives had taken to cover and except for the invaders, Chapei resembled a city of the dead. Neither Chinese civilians nor soldiers could be seen, the Chinese sniping from the darkness into the Japanese ranks.

Flares Are Used The Japanese entered the native city using flares to illuminate their route. The Chinese allowed the Japanese to advance a considerable distance into Chapei before beginning sniping. Two large groups of reinforcements were sent into the Japanese.

The extent of the casualties was undetermined.

The Japanese were equipped with small arms and machine guns and rode in trucks preceded by armored cars.

The telephone lines in the native city were cut.

Before starting the advance Shiosawa delivered a copy of his proclamation to Mayor Wu Teh-Ching, Kai-Shek, asking for instructions.

The firing in Chapei as the Japanese advanced could be heard clearly in the international settlement.

Defenses of the settlement were tightened.

Desultory firing was progressing at the Hungjiao airbase. No Japanese were in that sector and it was believed the retreating Chinese were looting.

Mayor Wu Teh-Ching, in his palatial semi-Chinese residence in the settlement, told the United Press: "I have complied with all of Mura's demands. Therefore, the invasion of our territory is entirely unjustified. The situation is entirely in the hands of the garrison commander. I have no military power."

While the Japanese were taking Shanghai, the disorganized government at Nanking was reconstructed. Lo Wen-Kan was made foreign minister, Wang Ching-Wel chairman of the ex-

ACCUSE JUDGE IN HONOLULU OF COERCION

Four Prisoners Seeking to Quash Murder Indictments in Charges

HONOLULU, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Judge Albert M. Cristy, taciturn head of Honolulu's criminal courts, stood accused of grand jury coercion today by four prisoners seeking to quash murder indictments in the famous island "honoring slaying" case.

The prisoners, a prominent American society woman and three navy men, filed the legal motion as a preliminary to their arrangement before Judge Cristy tomorrow morning.

Judge Cristy's attitude toward the grand jury, the evident reluctance with which the indictments were voted and the fact that two members have resigned were cited by defense attorneys in their fight against the charges.

Montgomery Winn, of defense counsel, claimed in the motion that the jury had voted a "no bill" last Friday and Judge Cristy had refused to accept it "and by so refusing the judge usurped the time honored function of the grand jury sole and exclusive judge of the facts presented before it."

When the jury met again Tuesday, Judge Cristy recharged it. Several hours later second degree murder indictments were returned.

Will Insist Japan Not Go Into International Settlement, Said

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(UP)—The government followed closely but without comment reports of developments in the Orient today.

United Press dispatches telling of the determination of the Japanese naval commander at Shanghai to occupy Chapei, native section of Shanghai, were rushed to Secretary of State Stimson and to naval chiefs here who studied them with interest. President Hoover also was informed.

The United States is insistent that Japan shall not spread her occupation of Shanghai into the international settlement there; blockade the ports, or otherwise interfere with international trade.

There were no immediate indications of any movement of ships or personnel by the navy. At the department it was explained that nothing whatever would be done except on advice of the state department.

All American warships are following their previously outlined programs without alterations. Rear Admiral Montgomery Taylor, commander of the Asiatic squadron, who now is in Manila, has not been ordered to China.

Importance was attached not only to Japan's movements cent-

KIDNAPERS RELEASE H. WOOLVERTON

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 28.—(UP)—Howard A. Woolverton, 52, wealthy industrialist and latest victim of a million dollar midwest kidnap ring, was safe at his home today after being held nearly 24 hours for $50,000 ransom.

Representatives of the prominent Woolverton family issued denials that any ransom had been paid or promised. Police asserted, however, circumstances of the industrialist's release indicated an agreement had been made.

Woolverton said he was blindfolded from the time the kidnapers seized him in his automobile in the heart of a rich residential section Tuesday night until last evening. At no time, he said, did he know where he was.

ADDITIONAL POISON CASES DISCOVERED

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 28.—(UP)—As Dr. J. C. Munch, world-famous toxicologist and specialist in thallium poisoning, sped here by plane and train today, seven more Mexicans were reported showing positive symptoms of the malady which already has taken five lives.

Four of the seven were children and three were women, all found on the Dr. J. M. Glaze ranch in Tulare county near Tipton.

All refused proffered hospital treatment, although the report said the children were entirely bald and the women rapidly becoming so.

Another report said several men on the ranch were complaining of abdominal pains, but refused to leave their work.

The abdominal pains and falling hair are regarded as definite symptoms of the thallium's slow but deadly effect.

Agreement By Labor and Rail Heads Reported

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Twenty railway labor unions reached agreement at 1 p. m. today on their stand toward the railroads' proposed 10 per cent wage reduction.

It was not made known whether they had voted to accept the reduction, but language of the resolution announcing accord of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen indicated they would approve it.

Simultaneously, it was announced that the International Longshoremen's association, comprising workers at New York harbor, had withdrawn from the conference to negotiate separately with the five railroads serving the harbor.

MURDER TRIAL OF RUTH JUDD TAKES RECESS

Illness of Two Jurors is Cause for Judge Today to Hold Up Case

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 28.—(UP)—The presentation of Winnie Ruth Judd's defense to the charge she murdered Agnes Anne Lerol, her former friend, was held up temporarily today because of illness among the jurors.

There was no certainty as to when it might be resumed although Judge Howard Speakman was to call court to order this afternoon to determine if two jurors suffering from colds were able to resume their places.

Judge Speakman minimized the possibility of a mistrial, pointing out both men probably would recover quickly and that as soon as the jury was complete again it would read a few depositions from midwest towns and then begin in earnest its attempt to prove that if Mrs. Judd killed Mrs. Lerol and her roommate, Hedvig Samuelson, she was insane when she did it.

The present trial concerns only Mrs. Lerol.

Most important alienist for the defense will be Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, Los Angeles, former head of the state hospital for the insane at Matteawan, N. Y. He testified for the state against Hickman when Hickman pleaded insanity as a defense for the slaying of Marion Parker.

The defense consistently has turned state witnesses to its side in carrying out the contention Mrs. Judd was insane.

Through cross examination of Mrs. Judd's parents the state brought out that Mrs. Judd was a

DECLARES INNOCENT MAN PUT TO DEATH

DALHART, Tex., Jan. 28.—(UP)—The possibility that an innocent man was put to death in Ning was raised here today with the startling charge of J. B. Robbins.

Facing charges of forgery and wanting in half a dozen states for issuing fictitious checks, Robbins named his partner as the man who should have been executed by the state of Nevada instead of Robert H. White.

Robbins said that the murder of Louis Lavell, an Elko merchant, was committed by L. B. Varner, and that White had no connection with the slaying.

Varner, although admitting he was in Elko during 1928 when Lavell's bullet riddled body was recovered from the ruins of his burned place of business, maintained his innocence.

CRAVATH QUIT AS DENVER GRID COACH

DENVER, Jan. 28.—(UP)—The Post says "Jeff" Cravath, head football coach of Denver University, resigned today, presumably because his team lost six of their ten games last season. Chancellor Hunter was quoted as saying the resignation was accepted.

Neither Cravath nor Hunter would confirm the story. Cravath formerly was a star at U. S. C.

HOLD MAN IN JAIL AFTER AUTO WRECK

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Antonio Pinto, 22, of Blyde, is in the county jail at Woodland today in connection with the death of an unidentified man found dying on the Blyde highway.

The victim, about 35, died in Sacramento Emergency hospital from injuries received by an automobile. Pinto was found near the dying man by W. H. Schaffer of Yuba City.

In the face of the youth's declarations that he stopped his car when he saw the victim lying in the road, officers found blood stains on his windshield and bits of shattered glass from his headlight in the road.

KILLS 2 DAUGHTERS. WIFE AND SUICIDES

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 28.—(UP)—Edward Berg, 45, Richmond undertaker, killed his wife and two young daughters while they slept and then committed suicide at his home here today.

serious on the Shanghai situation, but to the announcement that troops were being sent to Harbin.

It was evident that officials considered the situation grave. Informally they admitted that they saw possibility of serious complications in Japan's proposals to occupy Shanghai. It was pointed out that the United States has no direct interest in the native city but that fighting there might easily spread into the international settlement, endangering American lives.

Meantime the state department waited more definite reaction. From the British as to their views toward the possible use of economic pressure against Japan. Press dispatches reported the British as unenthusiastic over such proposals.

ENGLAND IS READY TO PROTECT RIGHTS

LONDON, Jan. 28. — (UP)—Great Britain was ready to protect her interests in Shanghai, but was not believed likely to operate in an economic boycott aimed to govern the Japanese occupation of the city.

While the government was ready to do all possible to protect British lives and property, well informed sources believed Britain would express hope of a "peaceful settlement" or ask assurances that her nationals would not be endangered. The United States would be inclined to warn or scold.

The government gave careful consideration to the report from the British embassy at Washington of the conferences on the Far Eastern situation between British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay and Secretary of State Stimson. It was understood that Washington expressed the desire for Anglo-American cooperation in the form of identical notes to Tokyo and Nanking pointing out the menace to American and British interests implied by clashes at Shanghai.

The Morning Post said Japan had done nothing in Shanghai so far not in accordance with the precedent set by the joint action of the powers at Shanghai in 1927, except that the Japanese were acting independently in the present case.

JAPAN IRRITATED OVER MOVE OF U. S.

TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 28. — (UP)—The government was plainly irritated today by publication of the Manchuria negotiati documents in Washington.

It was said that the application of any economic measures against Japan as reported from Washington would mean the severance of diplomatic relations.

A government spokesman said the Japanese positively would not interfere in the international settlement in Shanghai. He described Japan's actions there as "minor," limited to closing headquarters of anti-Japanese associations. The Chinese government, station, working with the Radio Corporation of America, will not be occupied, the spokesman said.

W. Cameron Forbes, United States ambassador, conferred today with Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa, reporting verbally on the basis of two telegrams from Secretary Stimson. It was understood that Japan intended doing in Shanghai and elsewhere.

in any section of the building or making any changes in the plans that called for less money.

Labor Makes Demand

Franklin Grouard, representing the local bricklayers' union, addressed the council, just before the vote was asked, and asked the council if there had been any guarantee that local labor would be employed on the construction work.

Mayor John Knox replied that the council had a written statement from Rohrbacher to the effect that local labor would be used but it developed that this statement referred only to the general contract and not to the sub-contractors. No statement has been received promising local labor the work from the sub-contractors. Mayor Knox stated that Rohrbacher did not know who the sub-contractors would be, at this time.

Grouard stated to the council that outside of the steel work to be done in building the edifice, that it was not necessary to go outside the city limits of Santa Ana to get men for the work and insisted that the council do all in its power to see that local labor got the preference. This was promised by the board, but no definite action was taken.

women registered as without work. On January 12 there were 700 men and women registered and yesterday the figure stood at 1286.

Total Registration

The total registration of heads of families and their dependents, of this number there are 1360 people receiving county aid and 2508 who do not receive this help. In his report on registration Speed said that daily registrations of unemployed are between 20 and 30 people.

Mayor John Knox, before submitting his motion that launched the financial campaign plan said: "Early in September I sensed this situation regarding unemployment and city and county figures have proven that my estimate of the seriousness of the situation was correct. I appointed a committee in good faith and this committee started to work in the same good faith."

"For some reason, someone chose to throw a monkey wrench in the gears. We have heard a wonderful amount of criticism levelled at the secretary and other executive officers. I believe that right here in Santa Ana there are many people who are having notes and clipping coupons who have not done their share toward relieving the apparent distress in the community. I believe that these people should be asked to do their share and that there are men in this community who will assist in this campaign."

"This help is necessary. In spite of printed reports that there is no problem here I know that there is suffering among the people of Santa Ana."

The Rev. George A. Warner introduced a motion to proceed with a financial campaign. This was incorporated in the motion presented by Mayor Knox. In introducing his motion the Rev. Mr. Warner said that it looked as though the relief organization was neglecting an opportunity if it failed to campaign for funds with which to carry on the work for which it was organized. He said that the relief work must go ahead and that he believed community help could be depended on if the people knew conditions as they actually exist.

Vesley Taylor, also speaking on behalf of the campaign said that it would not be fair to those people who have already pledged monthly amounts for relief work if the campaign is not continued and that the work should never have been started unless it is to be carried through to completion.

Report Submitted J. F. Burke submitted a report of the recent meeting of supervisors where it was stated that relief work would have to be discontinued at the end of five weeks unless more money is available. He said that he believed the personal sentiment is against either taxation or a bond issue. The supervisors, he pointed out, have the power to levy a tax under existing conditions and if a bond issue is presented and fails to carry this tax is the only method of relief that remains. He emphasized the fact that Santa Ana must do its share in alleviating distress and said that if everyone contributed equally there would be no need for either a bond issue or a tax.

Another possible source of securing funds Burke pointed out was through gasoline tax money due the county or already received but unappropriated. This would provide approximately $250,000 for relief.

Stanley Goode speaking along the same lines suggested that the county revise its budget and take from other funds $100,000 to be turned over to the welfare fund. He opposed the proposed reduction of county salaries on the grounds that this saving would be but a drop in the bucket and would result in further reductions in standards of living.

Charles Van Wyck suggested that inasmuch as Orange county has good roads to practically every section and that with considerable money allocated for expenditure in extending the system in the future that these funds be utilized.

Extension of the county road system, he said, will not be necessary for a year or two and the funds allocated for this extension could be used immediately for road work as emergency relief.

With the garden fund depleted Speed reported that A. N. Zerman

At 12:35 a. m. the Japanese attempted to occupy the north station, on the border of the international settlement. One Japanese was wounded. Japanese infantry were supporting the motorized Japanese advance.
The Japanese operating the Chapel disarmed one unit of the fifth division of the bureau of public safety police.
The decision to occupy the native city came after a day of rapid and conflicting developments. Earlier, the Chinese had given Kuramatsu Mural, Japanese consul general, a pledge of complete compliance with the Japanese demands. In return, he postponed the action set for 6 p. m. (5 a. m. est) when the Japanese ultimatum expired, and announced he would wait to see if the Chi-

RELIEF GROUP COOPERATES ON WOODCUTTING
Between 30 and 35 men employed by the Goodwill Industries as wood choppers will be given at least one more week's work through action yesterday of the Citizens' Unemployment Emergency Relief committee. The men were to have been laid off today. The relief committee appropriated $500 to care for the payroll for one more week and turned the matter over to the finance committee to undertake to finance the Goodwill wood cutting program.
J. Winterbourne, manager of the Goodwill Industries in Santa Ana, reported that men working at the wood yard had cut 130 cords of wood. This wood cannot be sold at present because it is green and there is no market for anything but dry wood. The supply can be stored until next year, however, and be sold at a good price.
Because of the inability to find a market for sale of the wood it would be necessary, he said to discontinue operation. He said that he can secure 500 additional cords of wood for cutting and storing until next year. Winterbourne reported that his wood cutting program has provided 750 days of work since its inception.
Advance of money for one more week of work was made on motion of Jules Markel and J. C. Cranston made the motion that referred the matter to the finance committee with instructions to attempt formulation of a program that will keep the work going. It was pointed out that financing the plan would be on a basis of repayment when the supply is sold.

RACERS TAKEN FROM MIDWAY CITY PASTURE

A series of horse thefts reported to the sheriff's office and the district attorney's office during the past several weeks reached a climax last night when thieves stole two thoroughbred racing mares, worth $15,500, from the pasture of Sterling Price, near Midway City, it was learned today.

The mares, in foal, are 12 years old and are the property of Walter Hill, well known Orange county rancher. Maudie Wilson, one of the mares, was valued at $8000, and My Mary, the other, at $7500, it was reported.

The mares had been turned loose in a pasture near Midway City with a number of other horses. Thieves, who apparently knew their value, singled them out of the lot and stole them, leaving the other horses.

Members of the Orange county fruit patrol today took up the case and are making an investigation.

Within a few minutes of the time the Hill horses were reported stolen, L. Manzano, of Wintersburg, reported to the district attorney's office that two horses which he had purchased just yesterday, were stolen from a field one mile north of Bolsa, on Wright street. The horses were work animals and only worth $100.

The mares stolen were both registered and in their day had been well known as racers.

Robert Sandoz, head of the fruit patrol, declared today there was an "epidemic" of horse stealing in Southern California and that no less than 11 horses had been stolen in Orange county and near Long Beach in the past 30 days. The district attorney's office could give no reason for the sudden turn of crime which would send thieves into horse pastures for their "loot."

Local Briefs

FORESTRY GROUP CHANGES BY-LAWS

Directors of the Orange County Forest Protective association met last night in the Farm Bureau offices here and passed upon a revision of the constitution and by-laws of the organization. The revised documents will be placed before the next general meeting for ratification some time in March.

Those present at the session were John Osterman, Tustin; E. F. Mathews, Santa Ana; John Ragan, Villa Park; Charles Logan, Tustin, and Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory. E. T. Watson, Olive, and L. Edwardson, Placentia, were not present.

Men Invited To Revival Service

A large crowd was present at the evangelistic meeting in the First United Brethren church last night, for the service which is being conducted by the Rev. T. W. Ringland, church pastor, assisted by Ray G. Upson, of Dayton, Ohio, evangelistic singer.

The pastor spoke last night on the subject "Results of Sin." The choir of the Second Baptist (colored) church, was present last night and sang several numbers including spirituals.

The meeting tonight is prepared to appeal directly to men and men are especially invited to attend.

BANDIT HURT IN MAKING ESCAPE AFTER HOLDUP

Police authorities throughout the county were today seeking an injured bandit, one of four, who early last night held up the Jack Long service station, on the outskirts of Seal Beach, and who after robbing the place of $50, was believed to have been seriously injured when the stolen car in which he and his companions made their escape, turned over near Sunset Beach.

Blood found in the car, indicated that one of the bandits must have been pinned under the car as it rolled over and was badly injured. The car used in the holdup and which was found turned upside down at the side of the road, was the property of S. S. Hansen, of 138 Howard street, Los Alamitos, and had been reported to the police as stolen, just a few minutes prior to the holdup.

Long reported that four men drove into the service station in the car, ordered gas and when he attempted to serve them, drew pistols. One of the men rifled the cash register while the others held him at a pistol's point.

Long gave the alarm a short time afterward and two state officers took up the chase of the car. The machine headed toward Huntington Beach, but took a side road after leaving Sunset Beach and in making the turn, turned over. It was reported. When officers arrived at the scene, the bandits had escaped on foot. It was then learned that the car they had used was the Hansen machine.

BRONCOS BEAT BEARS

The Broncos led 12 to 9 at the half and kept a safe lead throughout, with Murray turning in 11 points to lead the scoring. Catollica turned in six for the Bears.

Smokes In Court; Fined $5

It cost E. H. Needham, Corona, five dollars today to take about two puffs on a cigarette in the court of Superior Judge H. G. Ames. While the court was in session, Needham was reported to have taken a seat, meanwhile smoking a cigarette and perhaps forgetting his surroundings, where smoking is forbidden.

At any rate he was cited for contempt of court and a few moments later a five dollar bill reposed with the clerk of the court.

Needham was witnessing the trial of a damage suit in which Lewis C. Barrett was seeking $10,000 damages from J. P. McCune and W. L. Panikrate as a result of injuries received on March 29, 1930, when McCune's car, driven by Panikrate, is alleged to have struck him while he was crossing Ocean avenue in Garden Grove.

FATAL AUTO CRASH HELD ACCIDENTAL

ORANGE COUNTY B. P. W. COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Junior past presidents, southern district officers of the Business and Professional Women's club and guests of unfederated clubs of Orange county, were honored last evening by the Orange county council of the Business and Professional Women's club when they were entertained with a dinner at the Green Cafe in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Mabel Hathaway, of Anaheim, president of the council, presided over the evening.

Ruth Laws Hepper of Covina, southern district officer, talked to those present on the value of extension work and of the federation, giving a number of reasons for forming and joining clubs, saying that chief among these was the organized ability of combating propaganda against women workers.

Frances Emans, a federation officer for a number of years, spoke on legislation and membership, while Ruth Taunton of Anaheim talked on political science and what she had gained from contact in federated club membership.

The rest of the evening was spent in hearing club reports on activities and discussing club problems.

Dinner tables were appointed with tallman soup and spring blossoms while dainty bouquets of violets and Chinese lilies were found at each place.

Mrs. A. Haven Smith, Orange

PLAN FUNERAL FOR AUTO CRASH VICTIM

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, for William Parris, real estate man of 4494 Odlin street, Hollywood, who met death last Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident one mile north of Huntington Beach.

Entombment of the remains will be in the Forest Lawn mausoleum. Mr. Parris, who was 50 years of age, was killed instantly in the crash, which also took the life of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Draper of Canada, who was visiting at her brother's home. Mr. Parris' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Parris, were seriously injured and are in St. Joseph's hospital.

BREAKFASTERS TOLD OF SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT

Development of the public school from the Little Red Schoolhouse days to the present institution that prepare youth for the battle of life, were outlined for members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning by H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia Lathrop Junior high school.

The right to secure an education is one of the foundation stones of this democratic form of government, he said. The first schools in America, following Old World traditions, were private institutions but the spirit of democracy rebelled at this and it was not long before they were opened as public institutions and free to all who wished to take advantage of them.

Residing in the country school houses of the past, located on barren land, and in disrepair, Nelson referred to them as "ragged beggars by the side of the road." He said "memories of days spent in the Little Red Schoolhouse are memories that we cherish but they are

TAKES LEAD IN PLAY

In selecting Mena Summers Smith to play the lead in the Frederick Lonsdale comedy drama, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," the casting committee of Santa Ana Community Players chose one who has made a pronounced success of every role she has attempted with the local Thespians. Those who have watched rehearsals in preparation for the Friday and Saturday night presentations of the drama in Ebell auditorium, have declared that Mrs. Smith's characterization of "Mrs. Cheyney" will excel even her memorable portrayal of the temperamental opera star in "Enter Madame."

of days that we would not return to if we could."

Education today has not abandoned the "three R's," according to Nelson, rather more attention is being paid them than was customary in the past and they are supplemented by the "three C's," character, culture and citizenship. Mistakes made in public school work, he said, must be blamed on the training the present generation received in its youth.

In the earlier days of America's educational system little attention was paid to the backward student. That was an era of "white collar" development and paid attention principally to the brilliant student. For this reason the era was marked by brilliant men and orators, leaders who led not because they were of exceptional brilliance as brilliance is rated today, but because they were above the average of their time.

Schools today, he said, are concerned with public opinion and social trend. They teach that which the public demands. With the reduction of the working day and working week's is almost certain the greatest task of the educational system will be to teach the next generation how to use its leisure to the greatest advantage.

Social studies will become more important and appreciation of music and art will take a prominent place in school work along with guidance in what and how to read. He scored the trashy magazine and tabloid newspaper as a sign of past failure in education.

During the serving of breakfast the kindergarten band of the Lowell School, under direction of Miss Linda Mueller entertained with a group of selections and several members of the band recited poems and sang songs. F. Tierheimer of Anaheim entertained with two piano-accompanied numbers.

German plants are estimated to be able to supply the world with 1,165,000 metric tons of nitrogen annually.

REVEALS PLANS OBSERVANCE OF BICENTENNIAL

Preliminary plans for the bicentennial observance of Washington's birthday celebration to be sponsored here on February 22 by the Santa Ana Breakfast club were discussed this morning at a meeting of that organization. D. C. Clifton, chairman of the club committee in charge of the program reported that his committee is planning a parade through the city and a program to be presented in the high school auditorium.

Special music for the occasion has been arranged for by Clifton with the national committee on observance of the Washington Bicentennial. This music will be presented during the program at the school. One selection, a march written by Sousa for the celebration will, in all probability, be played by the Santa Ana Municipal band and the other, a vocal number, "Song of Faith," will be sung by a chorus of 100 students representing the combined junior college and high school glee clubs. This will be accompanied by the Santa Ana Philharmonic orchestra under direction of Miss Myrtle Martin.

Because of the annual dance, sponsored by Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, being scheduled for the same night, it will be impossible for Santa Ana post of the American Legion to participate in the celebration. Plans are now being made to issue an invitation to the drum corps of the Lynnwood post of the Legion to take part in the event.

The committee is also arranging to present a special number "The Spirit of '76." This will be given in costume. George Stinson, Santa Ana's "Singing Cop" has accepted an invitation to be one of the soloists on the program and is arranging a patriotic program in keeping with the spirit of the celebration.

Members of the committee arranging for the celebration are: D. C. Clifton, Mayor John Knox, Bruce Switzer, Dave Wettlin, and B. J. Koster. Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson is representing the city schools.

PUBLIC HEALTH ADVANCE TOLD KIWANIS CLUB

Speaking on the subject "Dollars and Sense of Human Life," Dr. E. L. Russell, in charge of the child hygiene department of the county health department addressed members of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon at Ketter's cafe.

Dr. Russell, in his talk, traced the development of sanitation and health measures from the year 1500 when dirt, vermin and pestilence constituted the accepted order, up to the present.

He said that in 1500 and during that era the average life span was 29 years. Today the average life expectancy is placed at 58.8 years. This increase has been made possible through unceasing efforts to reduce the death rate due to preventable causes and to curb diseases that tend to shorten the life span.

In early days smallpox was always prevalent and a menace to life. That this one menace has been practically eliminated as a fatal disease is proven by statistics covering three wars. During the Civil War out of approximately 250,000 soldiers in the field there were 9000 deaths from smallpox. In the Spanish-American war there were only 86 deaths and during the World War with approximately 4,000,000 men in the service there were five deaths due to smallpox. Infant mortality has been reduced, fewer mothers die in childbirth and the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced one-half. In spite of the advance of medical science, out of the million and a half babies born annually approximately 115,000 die during their first year and 345,000 die within five years. There are 25,000,000 people below par and two and one-half million are ill in bed at all times.

With sanitation methods advancing and new discoveries adding to the life expectancy and reducing fatalities, Dr. Russell said, that 40 per cent of the deaths today are due to preventable causes.

Demands on the public health department are increasing, he said, and because of the present economic situation many parents are financially unable to follow instructions for the safeguarding of their children's health.

The depression has also hampered the work of the department in that mothers are being forced to wear their children and turn them over to the care of others at the age of four and five weeks in order to go to work. Their husbands have found it impossible to find employment.

An adjustable thumb rest has been devised for fitting to the handle of a golf club. It is to teach players how to hold their hands.

LIGHT MEANS as much in the store as in the theater. Both depend on good showmanship. The desire to own something is built most rapidly and effectively when the article is shown attractively. Both in windows and within the store, merchandise should be shown to the very best advantage.

Customers Like the Well Lighted Store

FROM THE customer's viewpoint, good lighting in show windows allows the leisurely inspection of new goods. Within the store, the customer feels secure where there is abundant lighting so that goods may be examined critically. It is no longer necessary for clerk and customer to adjourn to the sidewalk to study an article by daylight.

Bring Daylight Into the Store

GOOD LIGHT has a place in these thrifty times. By careful planning, the small store may secure an atmosphere of good lighting which will attract the customer to the show window, will invite her to enter the store and will make the purchase of needed articles easy. Edison engineers are prepared to assist merchants in the intelligent study of store and window lighting. Be free to discuss it with them.

ORANGE GROUP URGES CONTROL OF PICTURES

At a meeting of the Orange Community Council of Religious Education held yesterday in that city, three movements for improving the type of motion pictures were endorsed by the body. The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved that the Orange Community Council of Religious Education endorse first, national supervision of motion pictures; second, county inspection of motion pictures; third, pictures suitable for family attendance Friday and Saturday nights to be shown in the local theater."

A discussion of motion pictures preceded the adoption of the resolution. R. C. Patton, president of the council, was in charge of the meeting and as dean of the community winter training school now in progress, reported that 70 persons were enrolled at the school.

It was reported that the recent change of time in the Sunday schools of the city to 9:30 a. m.

had proven very satisfactory. Plans for the summer daily vacation Bible school are to be made along somewhat different lines from those of previous years and complete plans are to be revealed for the sessions, at the next called meeting of the council by the Rev. L. V. Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist church and Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, of the First Presbyterian church.

Plans for a community pageant were abandoned for the present, it was announced.

Palestine Pictures At Church Tonight

Colored pictures of scenes in Palestine will be given at the Church of the Nazarene, Third and Bush streets tonight, in connection with the regular mid-week service which begins at 7 o'clock. These pictures are sponsored by the Holyland Bible Knowledge society, according to the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor.

Plan Reception For New Students

"Big Sisters" and "Big Brothers" of Julia Hathrop Junior high school will aid in receiving new students, graduates of the elementary schools, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. An assembly with an interesting program is to be offered, and the group will meet in the Four Square Gospel church for the assembly.

KERSEY DEFENDS MODERN YOUTH, SAYS PARENTS MUST SET GOOD EXAMPLE

Approximately 600 persons gathered last night in the auditorium of the Frances Willard Junior High school, of which Lyle Mitchell is principal, for dedication ceremonies in which Verling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, was the main speaker. A musical program was presented by students, the Mother's chorus, Dorothy Page Harper, pianist, Georgia Belle Walton, violinist, and Robert Brown, vocal soloist.

Before and after the program reports and you will find educational costs have not advanced as much as other phases of city, county and state government.

When defending modern youth, Kersey said: "I have no patience with those who are trying to tear down its reputation. Criticism of youth is misguided. Our boys and girls represent the best crop we've ever had in the state. Let's be unshaken in our faith in youth and live ourselves so as to set a good example. I have yet to find a boy or girl who goes far wrong when there is a parent who sets a good example."

Changing Process
Education, he explained, is a changing process. Most people try to judge it by what it was when they went to school but, he pointed out, no one today would drive a 10 year old car by choice. "It behooves us to learn about education so we can understand it."

It is an unending process, never complete, and those who finish schools and universities must keep on learning to keep up with progress, he declared.

Every experienced educator, he explained, and at this point said that one careless moment at home can undo months of work at school.

Although factual information is important and too subjects are receiving adequate attention, Kersey said the important things are the human, vital moments and children's relation to each other.

Building Is Symbol
George Wells, president of the school board, presided, explained the purpose of the gathering and praised the former school board and J. A. Cranston, former superintendent of schools, Allison and Allison, architects, for their work and planning in erection of the Willard building.

Dr. Percy R. Davis, school superintendent, in introducing the speaker, said the new building is one more evidence that people believe in education, a concrete proof of their belief that ignorance is the most sinister enemy of all, an expression of the belief that lasting values are in the mind.

He spoke of Kersey as a progressive educator, a dynamic leader and a valiant champion of child welfare. Seated on the stage were the board of education, community and school leaders and officials.

The program was launched by the Willard orchestra under direction of S. J. Mustel, presenting "Gloriana," and an encore. The Rev. Percy Frederick Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, delivered the invocation. The Willard Boys Glee club, directed by Esther Jean Davis, sang "Stars of the Summer Night" and "Bombay." Dorothy Page Harper, pianist, presented "Malaguena."

Following Kersey's address the Santa Ana Mothers' chorus, directed by Frances Hunt Beeson and assisted by Georgia Belle Walton, violinist, and Robert Brown, soloist, sang "Reve Angelique." At the conclusion the audience sang "America the Beautiful." The Rev. Mr. Schrock delivered the benediction.

EVANGELIST GIVES MIDWAY CITY TALK

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 28.—The auditorium of the Midway City Nazarene church was filled to capacity Tuesday evening when the Rev. Bud Robinson, nationally known evangelist, spoke. Dr. Little, superintendent of this district of the Church of the Nazarene, accompanied the Rev. Mr. Robinson here from Pasadena.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinnily underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unbundled her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat.

Read her letter:—"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 117 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way."

I have inquired of my dressmaker measurements which in August last were Bust 40, hips 43½, waist 33½ inches which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R. London, England. A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—out down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

But remember this: to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, or drug stores in the world and if the results one bottle brings you do not delight you—do not joyfully say you—why money back. Adv.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Santa Ana Register:

I read with much interest the article in the Santa Ana Register of the 13th inst. suggesting a cut in salaries of county officials and a revision of taxation system; also the recommendation of the grand jury in regards a reduction in all salaries of both elected and appointed office holders, as well as city employees, which I think should have been adopted long ago.

It is deplorable the status of the property owner at present. Real estate is top-heavy all over the state today and a glance at some towns' delinquent tax list shows the condition of the property owner. Property values and rents have dropped from 1-4 to 1-2 in the last three years, and it appears to me that some property is liable to be sold to pay the tax bill. All that is possible to be done in curtailing the county's expenditures, should be done to help the tax payer and business in general.

The overhead expense of the property owner prevents him from making any alterations or improvements which would help the unemployed as well.

I also noticed an article in your issue of the 13th where the teachers of the La Habra schools had offered two per cent of this year's salaries for the unemployment relief, this money to be used in building a tennis court. That sounds very nice of them, but is that all the cut they can stand when prices of all commodities are so low? I think not. A dollar will go twice as far today as it did a year ago.

I am told by a school trustee that makes out the checks to the teachers that a new employed teacher receives $140.00 per month for the first year, $145 per month the second year and an additional five per month every year until $150.00 is reached and the principal receives $250.00 per month. I believe in giving children the very best of education, but such high salaries are out of all reason, but as long as the tax payer doesn't kick on this as well as other things all will be o. k.

I have been a tax payer in Los Angeles and Orange counties since 1870 and have seen many changes. My children received some of their education in Hayward, Alameda county in 1890. The grammar school required 11 teachers, some of them having two grades to teach, and received $65.00 per month, the principal $125.00 per month. Some different today. Teachers came from far and near, some having to room and board in Hayward, which cost $50.00 per month, which I know to be a fact. It may be said that children get better and more education now. Yes, I admit that, but not in the grammar school. There were just as able teachers 20 years ago who received $30.00 per month as those now getting $140.00 and more.

For the last 10 years times have been so prosperous that it looked as if the employees could not ask enough, nor get enough, as long as it came out of the taxpayers' pocket. It is past time to call a halt.

—Taxpayer.

Well Known Santa Ana Musicians to Join Radio Staff

The Harrell Sisters Trio consisting of Luile, Lillian and LaVerne Harrell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harrell, of this city, will appear daily on the staff of Radio KFOX beginning Monday, February 1. The Harrell Trio has filled engagements throughout California, and its members are all known individually as soloists.

They have sung in most of the light opera productions that have played upon the coast within the last three years; principally the Lillian Albertson, Franklin Warner and Edward Royce productions. They are very well known in San Francisco musical circles, where in the last year they have filled extensive engagements with the Fox West Coast theater, the De Wolfe Hopper Opera company, the Manhattan Singers and with Captain Dobson on the Shell Happytime hour from KPO.

In the KFOX programs the Harrell Trio has departed from the average type of trio presentations, doing very little popular music. They specialize in modern arrangements of the old time favorite songs, the semi-classical and folk music of the various lands sung in its native language. Miss LaVerne Harrell has attracted widespread attention from vocal critics everywhere because of the remarkable range and quality of her contralto voice. Because of this, she is to be featured as the principal soloist with the trio on its present engagement.

SERVICE CLUB WORK TOLD AT 20-30 MEETING

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Visitors' night, staged last night by members of the 20-30 club, was a most successful event. Eleven guests shared the hospitality of the club at a dinner served at the Orient cafe. Speakers of the evening were Gordon K. Richmond, who represented the Lions club, and Dr. J. C. Crawford, who represented the Rotary club. Melvin Clement, president of the club, presided.

Dr. Crawford spoke on the founding of Rotary 26 years ago and of its early development. The advantages of club membership were stressed by the speaker, who outlined some of the objectives of the organization.

Richmond spoke on Lionsism and declared that thousands of men the world over share the activities of Lions clubs. The meaning of service was outlined in a forceful way by the speaker.

V. G. Wolfe, head of the membership committee, gave an encouraging report on the membership campaign which opened the first of January and which will close the first of July. Elmer Helm was program chairman and introduced the speakers.

Korea Evangelist At Presbyterian Church on Sunday

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Next Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church the Rev. Harry J. Hill is to speak. The Rev. Mr. Hill will be remembered as the organizer of the Can club some 20 years ago. The club ran for about two years, having for its motto, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Phil. 4:13.

For the last 14 years he has been a Bible teacher and evangelist in Korea. He is now on a furlough, visiting his relatives in Glendale. The service begins at 7 o'clock.

Religion Of Child Topic Of Minister

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Speaking on "The Child and Its Religion," the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church, yesterday afternoon addressed members of the Center Street P. T. A. The Rev. Mr. Minck explained that the child grasps his religion naturally, through his early contacts and associations.

Preceding the talk, a business session was held, with Mrs. Sisson in charge. It was voted to purchase curtains for the hall and to provide pillow cases for pillows used in the children's rest room. Following a discussion of program plans for the next meeting, it was decided to combine the Founder's day meeting with the celebration of George Washington's birthday. This will be held the afternoon of February 22.

Children of the school will contribute to the program. In his talk, the Rev. Mr. Minck gave three questions that are common to children. They were "Where did I come from?" "Where am I going?" and "What am I doing now?" He laid much importance on the last question. The speaker urged parents to be truthful to their children at all times. He brought out that after children have learned their little prayers, they add to them of their own accord, influenced by their daily lives.

Mennonite Group Holds Service In Romoland Church

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—The gospel team and members of the orchestra of the Mennonite church motored to Romoland Tuesday and conducted services in the Mennonite church in that place.

A large crowd was present for the service there. Several songs were enjoyed during the service as was also the sermon brought by the Rev. J. C. Sorensen, of the Orange church.

PROSPERITY ON WAY, MEMBERS OF CLUB TOLD

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Prosperity is already on the way, declared R. M. Rutledge, of the University of Southern California, in a talk on economics given at the Lions club yesterday. Rutledge chose as his topic, "The Next Cycle of Boom and Depression and Its Remedy."

The turning point in the present depression was reached last October, Rutledge declared, and he said he believed that during the next three years there would be a general upward trend. At the close of this period, the speaker said, conditions would be stabilized and that the price for products and manufactured goods would be equalized. Rutledge laid the blame of the depression in a measure to installment buying.

Wilbur Lentz was the program chairman. When the club business was transacted it was announced that an effort would be made to secure the group two meetings scheduled for the coming fall, for this city. A committee is to be appointed to take necessary steps.

LEISURE TIME DISCUSSED AT P.-T. A. MEET

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Devoting the business meeting to a discussion of welfare activities, and the program to a talk by Mrs. E. D. Stanley, members of the Maple Street P. T. A. met yesterday afternoon in the school. Mrs. C. E. Wood, president, was in charge of the session.

Welfare work being done by the association at present includes the provision of milk for children who are undernourished, and the contribution of clothing to needy families. The latter is made possible by active members who sew and make over clothing, it was said.

As a feature of the program, Mrs. Raymond played two piano solos. Mrs. Stanley was introduced, and her talk was on "The Family and Its Leisure." She said that everyone should do something worth while during leisure time, devoting spare moments to a hobby or some special interest. She referred to the quotation, "Hobbies Are Little Harbors of Happiness."

Mrs. Stanley named stamp collecting, butterfly mounting and reading as profitable and pleasing occupations for children as well as adults. For adults, she suggested painting, writing and reading among other things, stating that even 10 minutes a day could be utilized successfully. She emphasized the importance of concentrating on one thing at a time, instead of scattering the attention, thus making little progress.

She referred members of Richard Cabot's book, "What Men Live By." In this book it is brought out that the well balanced life includes work, play, love and worship, Mrs. Stanley said.

The speaker said that the person who believes he has no time for a hobby or encouragement of leisure time, is the same one who finds it impossible to start a savings account. Just as the person who saves lives within his income, so he who has leisure time to devote to a special interest lives within his strength and energy, she continued. Once leisure time is found and utilized, like the savings account, it accumulates value, the speaker added. Statistics class one fourth of each man's life as "leisure time."

Mrs. Stanley stated that at the annual educational convention held in November, the use of leisure time as one of the primary objects in modern education was named.

Announcement was made that V. D. Johnson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will be the speaker at the next meeting, to be held February 24.

MRS. C. B. HARPER HOSTESS TO CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Bide A Vee club members were pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Charles B. Harper was hostess in her home, 139 East River avenue. Most of the afternoon was spent in doing sewing and fancy work.

An enjoyable feature of the day came when Miss Frances Harper, a daughter of the home, gave a vocal solo. She is a senior at the University of Redlands, and is home for a short visit.

In concluding the affair, the hostess served dainty refreshments with the assistance of her daughters, the Misses Caryl and Helen Harper, and Hazel Harrison. The menu was served on trays gaily appointed in yellow, the chosen theme of the afternoon. Flowers arranged throughout the rooms were in keeping with the sunny motif.

A guest of the day was Mrs. J. Thacker, of this city, a sister of the hostess. Others present included Mesdames Percy Green, Harry Haynes, F. E. Harrison, Harry Douglas, Jesse Campbell, L. F. Robinson, Roy Snodgrass, Robert Burns McAulay, F. R. Valentine and the hostess, Mrs. Harper.

Mrs. Harrison will entertain in her home in Santa Ana canyon at the next club meeting, February 24.

P.-T. A. SEEKS CLOTHING FOR SCHOOL PUPILS

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Members of the Parent-Teacher associations of the city organized yesterday at the intermediate school to provide the children of about 30 families with adequate clothing. The sewing will be continued for a week or 10 days. Yesterday a number of garments were brought to the school and will be distributed. Women of the various associations will take charge of the sewing on different days. Mrs. C. H. Adams is in general charge of the program of work.

Four electric sewing machines have been loaned to the associations by the Singer Sewing Machine company and an ironing board and an electric iron were donated by the Orange Electric company. At the present time woolen garments which may be cut into quilt blocks or pieces of woolen goods are needed as many families are in need of bedding. It was stated by Mrs. Adams this morning. The groups expect to complete six or eight comforts. Shoes and garments, especially underclothing for children up to high school age, are needed, say the workers, and old trousers could be utilized for small boys. Small pieces of new material are now being made into shorts for boys and girls.

"Your Anti-Knock Claims are Too Modest"
— says Earl Cooper

"Your anti-knock claims for the new gasoline which you have traded named Union 76 are too modest. From an experimental, engineering, and pleasure driving standpoint, this non-premium, extremely high anti-knock gasoline stands alone."

Anti-knock AT NO EXTRA COST!
New Union 76 gasoline has five definite advantages over other non-premium fuels.

1. FINEST ANTI-KNOCK. Positively eliminates knocks in at least 95% of all cars.
2. MORE POWER. The increased aromatic hydrocarbons responsible for New Union 76's anti-knock qualities give it increased power, especially desired for quick pick-up in traffic, or on the highway, for hill climbing, or any hard pulls.
3. NEW SMOOTHNESS. Because inaudible or vibration knocks as well as audible knocks are eliminated.
4. INCREASED MILEAGE. Because every gallon of Union 76 contains more stored-up energy, and there is less loss and second gear work.
5. ALL AT NO EXTRA COST!

New Color—New Aroma

New Union 76 is colored a rich orange for your protection and to enable you to identify it easily.

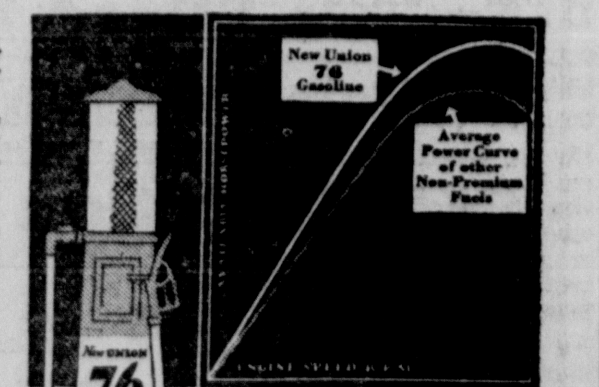

Too, the aromatic hydrocarbons responsible for the greater anti-knock qualities in New Union 76 have a new pleasing odor that is immediately recognized.

Watch For The 76

From this moment on—get anti-knock AT NO EXTRA COST. Just turn in where you see the big 76—the trade name of this new gasoline. Manufactured by the Union Oil Co. Be sure that the pump where you fill has a big 76 on the side and the gasoline is colored a rich orange!

OUR GUARANTEE!

After you try 10 gallons of New Union 76, if you do not recognize an improvement over any non-premium fuel you have used just send us your receipt and we will refund the amount of your purchase in cash.

FIGHT RACKET TO LIKING OF 'LEAPING LENA'

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Stillman's gymnasium, Eighty Ave., any week-day afternoon.

A big smoke filled room, barren of furnishings save two prize-fight rings, rubbing tables and punching bags.

The combined odors of bay rum, liniments, alcohol, sweat, old clothes, stale cigarette smoke and sweat soaked leather. Dozens of boxers of all nationalities mill in and about the ring. Frenchmen, Portuguese, Hebrews, Negroes from Harlem and from the Barbadoes. Some shadow box. Some skip rope. Some punch bags. Above all the mumble-jumble of voices, scuffle of feet and the sound of leather hitting leather and flesh, an overtone of asthmatic snorts can be heard—snorts peculiar to boxers working out.

Hard by the ring, her chin resting almost on the canvas mat, is a little woman. She wears a smart fur coat, and her hands are buried in a pint sized muff. She looks as out of place as a truck driver in a drawing room and it's not until you move close behind her and hear her talking to someone in the ring that you know she "belongs."

"Sockem on the jaw, King. Sockem on the jaw. Put 'im right here in my lap."

The little woman is Lena Levy, sister-manager of King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight who meets Max Baer of California in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Mrs. Levy, or "Leaping Lena," as she is known to the trade, makes no bones about why she is in the fight racket.

"I'm in," she explains, "because I don't like the doings of The King's former manager. The King earned $55,000 in 1930 and got only $15,000 out of it. I figured I might as well keep the money in the family, so I fired the manager. I kept an assistant under the business, but he did. And then I fired him, too. Now I run everything."

The boxing business, it is generally conceded, is a pretty tough business even for men, but Mrs. Levy rather likes it.

"The game isn't too tough for me," she said. "My family was a pretty tough one and I'm used to it. My father—he was in the fish business—was pretty tough himself and so were all my brothers. I've got two brothers besides The King. He's the baby.

"People always ask me how I feel when The King gets hurt and whether I turn my head when he gets hit in the mouth, say, and starts bleeding. To me The King getting hurt is just part of the game. He picked out boxing because he liked it, and because he is a natural born fighter. Anyway, he's so strong he's mighty hard to hurt."

BROUILLARD CHOICE

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—(UP)—Lou Brouillard, world's welterweight boxing champion, rated an 8 to 5 favorite today to defeat Jackie Fields at Chicago stadium tonight in the first defense he has made of his title since he won it four months ago.

DONS GET "HOT," WIN FROM SHAMROCK CLUB FIVE, 60-26

Every now and then during a basketball season there are times when a team feels like scoring.

Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college Dons, in this mood last night, destroyed the Shamrock Athletic Club Ramblers of Los Angeles, 60 to 26, before an encouraging mid-week crowd in Andrews gymnasium.

Honoring members of the Santa Ana team, the Shamrock manager afterward stated that competition offered by the Dons was every bit as stiff as that furnished by the Hollywood Athletic club, a respected opponent in Southern California basketball circles.

Shamrock's opening plays broke smoothly, too smoothly for Don comfort, but after the first few minutes, Santa Ana furnished the offensive entertainment and continued its display throughout the remaining three and one-half quarters.

Teamwork, plus basket-hitting "hotness," kept the Santa Anas in the lead throughout, 19-4, 25-11, 48-18, 60-26. Max Stull, high point man, received the tip-off every time, knocked the ball into the hands of the various teammates, and the play which seemed to work the best of all saw "Hen" Thiery, forward, circle back into Shamrock territory, hit the tip-off from Stull into the hands of Rus-

RUTH SAYS A'S THROUGH PIC'S YANKS TO WIN

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(INS)—"The Philadelphia Athletics don't figure to win another American league pennant this year," said Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees today. "If the law of averages mean anything the Athletics are ready to hit the down grade."

"Great teams can go along for three and sometimes four seasons winning everything in sight," he added, "but sooner or later the cogs begin to miss and the machine is shot to pieces, and that is just about what has happened to the Athletics."

"Fellows like George Earnshaw can't go on pitching forever, and the entire Philadelphia infield could stand a severe shaking up. As I see it the Athletics are past their peak. That's all there is to it."

"As a member of the Yankees I am expected to pick them to win the flag this year, but I actually mean it this time."

"The Yanks have everything that goes to make up a championship club and right now I see no reason why they shouldn't walk off with the pennant. The entire fan figures to be much stronger this season and everybody knows we were doing all right for ourselves in the closing stages of last year's race."

SOPHS CAPTURE EARLY LEAD IN HI CLASS MEET

With the sophomores leading their upperclassmen by a comfortable margin, Santa Ana high school's annual interschool track meet was drawing to a close at Poly field today.

Virtually eliminated from the race with only 33 points to their credit, the seniors were banking on the juniors, with 55 points, to surpass the sophomore total of 79, garnered yesterday.

The sophomores naturally cleaned up in the Class C division with 55 points, and at the same time scored enough in Classes A and B to make the juniors and seniors uneasy. Although in the lead, the sophomores were none too optimistic today, in view of the fact that there remained more events in Classes A and B than in Class C.

An outstanding performance was turned in by Harold Clem, senior high jumper, who scaled 5 feet, 10 inches for an easy victory. Clem promises to help replace the lost services of Paul Jacques, great Saint jumper for the last three years, who graduates this term.

One of the day's biggest surprises came in the varsity 440 when Jack Mitchell, junior, defeated his classmate, Harry Apple, in 55.6 seconds. Apple had won the first heat in the semi-finals in 56.1 sec., Mitchell the second heat in 58.4 sec.

Max Wilson, senior, nosed out Floyd Montgomery, junior, in the varsity 120-yard low hurdles, but his winning time of 15.2 seconds was a tenth of a second slower than when he won his heat in the semi-finals Monday.

Pointing out that the record in the 330-yard dash at the University of Southern California is 3.14 seconds, Coach Clyde Patton, conductor of the meet, was surprised to see Robert Dixon, sophomore, win the Class B event in 38.8 seconds. The Saint mentor hopes to develop Dixon into a 440-yard star this season.

Another item which caught Patton's eye was the fact that three of his novice broad jumpers—Fractor, Meyer, and Ramacher—leaped over 19 feet. Fractor hit 19 feet, 5 inches; Ramacher, 19 feet, 4 inches; and Lewis, 19 feet, 3 inches.

Results of yesterday's finals:

CLASS A
75-yard dash: Won by Anderson (Soph); Wilson (Senior) and Hamilton (Junior) tied for second; Motley (Senior) fourth; Perinich (Senior) fifth. Time, 1.8 seconds.

Broad jump: Won by Proctor (Senior); Meyer (Senior), second; Ramacher (Junior), third; Richards (Junior), fourth; Hamilton (Junior), fifth. Distance, 19 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

'I WAS DOPED' SAYS BATTALINO, TOSSED

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.—(UP)—The aftermath of the ill-fated world's featherweight title "no contest" bout between Bat Battalion, champion, and Freddie Miller, Cincinnati southpaw, was a turmoil in boxing circles here today.

The bout was called "no contest" in the third round by Dr. Carl Wilzbach, chairman of the Cincinnati boxing commission, after Referee Lou Bauman had walked out of the ring with both men on their feet fighting.

Battalino, who appeared to have wasted his strength trying to make the featherweight limit of 126 pounds, claimed today he was doped.

CAPTAIN KIDDER

A redhead will captain Santa Ana Hi's next football squad. Introducing the man of the hour, Allen ("Red") Kidder, fullback, a regular for the past two seasons, who was elected successor to "Toy" Blower at a Saint banquet last night. "Red" is no pirate, of course, but won't that Captain Kidder stuff strike terror into the ranks of Saint opponents next year?

Monograms will be awarded tonight.

IF THIS BE TREASON!
Babe Ruth has come in for some caustic criticism from commentators here and there following his refusal to take a $10,000 cut in salary for 1932. It has been pointed out that, with thousands of people fighting for any kind of a job that will keep soul and body together, and with children hungry, Mr. Ruth should be more considerate of the needs of the times, shut his mouth and accept whatever is handed to him.

While it is unfortunate that the difference between $80,000 and $70,000 a year should be flaunted in the gaunt face of the public at this time, is it a matter that should be taken so seriously as to heat popular indignation to the boiling point?

The fact is that Colonel Ruppert could pay Ruth $800,000 this year and still owe him a lot of money. Babe and the Colonel know pretty well that it is Ruth and nobody else who built the Yankee stadium, the finest baseball theater in the world, and it is Ruth who has gone on filling it with people year after year, depression or no.

HOW ABOUT WRESTLERS?
There might be more solid ground from which to fling carping remarks anent the little annual horseplay between the Colonel and the Babe if baseball happened to be the only "big business" prospering in these downcast days. But take a look around. It requires no Solomon to observe that the public, pinched or not, is supporting a horde of clowning piano-movers by paying to watch the unblinking hippodrome of modern wrestling.

Follow the course of these strange exhibitions in the newspapers and it will not take long to calculate that the sport annually is costing the depressed public millions of dollars more Upsets were expected but failed to materialize in three Santa Ana church league basketball games played at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The Latter Day Saints, with a 21 to 4 lead at the half, coasted through to an easy 31-24 victory over the M. E. South team for their seventh victory. Their one defeat of several rounds ago, however, may cost them the second-half championship, for the First Christians, undefeated in five starts, have only the M. E. South, Costa Mesa and Church of Brethren quintets to beat in order to wind up a perfect season.

Asa Herren, star forward, scored 16 points to help give the First Methodists a 31 to 19 victory over Costa Mesa Community. The Methodists led at the half, 20-11.

The third contest was the closest of all, the First Baptists overcoming a 10 to 6 margin at the half to nose out the United Presbyterians, 20 to 16. Peters was high-point man of the game with 10.

SAYS PUBLIC OPINION NOW POTENT FORCE

BREA, Jan. 28.—Public opinion is a potent force in bringing about negotiations for world peace and disarmament were stressed by Mrs. E. E. Smith, president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, in her talk given before members of the Brea Woman's club and their guests in a community dinner and program given at the Masonic hall Tuesday night.

The delegates of 50 nations gathered in Geneva on February 11 will go as far toward realizing their object as public opinion will permit. Mrs. Smith declared science has diminished the world, making closer and swifter relationships between nations and the urgent need of international understanding. Never in the history of the world has adult education received the concentrated effort it is now receiving, involving a new world citizenship, good will, peace, the codification of international laws and a judicial body through which these laws may be properly enforced.

In concluding, Mrs. Smith said: "If you are interested in reducing the burden of the taxpayer, in promoting a new world education and fellowship, take the time to write President Hoover telling him exactly how you feel upon the matter. The expressed opinion of thousands of men and women make up public opinion, the most powerful influence in the world today."

Other guests presented by Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Albert Launer, southern district president, and Mrs. Arthur Miller, the latter county chairman of international relations, both Mrs. Launer and Mrs. Miller responded briefly. The Rev. Donald Gaylord presented and spoke briefly, paying high tribute to the women of the nation in their war against war and chiding the men for their inactivity in accepting the situation as one of peace instead of merely an interlude between wars.

The Rev. Mr. Gaylord presented members of the Girl Reserves of Fullerton, who gave a skit entitled "Mother Earth and Her Children," a clever and interesting portrayal of the strife between selfishness and militarism.

The Wildcat quartet of the Brea-Olinda Union high school, comprising Jack Stewart, Harry W. Stratton, Phillip and Arthur Stewart, favored with several numbers during the dinner hour. They were accompanied by Miss Louise Chapman. Miss Cecile Temmen played a march as the dancers found their places at tables. Announcement was made of the county executive board meeting in Brea on February 5, opening at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Smith presiding. The next regular Brea speaker from Claremont will be the subject, "An Appreciation of Our Oriental Neighbors."

W. Curtis announced the Scotch Rite players at the high school here on the evening of February 18, presenting a play, "Nothing But the Truth," in a benefit for the unemployed of Brea. It is being given under the auspices of the Lions club of Brea.

The dinner, attended by about 100 persons, was prepared by the Brea and means committee of the club and was served by the art association. Tables were decorated with garden flowers and glowing candles. On the committee were: Madeline G. C. Plockner, C. Gordon, Leland Gordon, C. C. Garvin, W. E. Griffith, Harlan Leary, H. E. Hardy, C. J. ## SCOUT WORK IS DISCUSSED AT CHAMBER MEET

PLACENTIA, Jan. 28.—Boy Scout work and the coming campaign for funds for operation, the general depression and the meeting of the supervisors of Orange county with representative citizens at the Orange county hospital Monday night occupied the time of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce in a lengthy session Tuesday noon at the chamber hall.

A recommendation of the secretary, Thomas E. Pickrell, that directors reduce his salary 25 percent to provide for a lower budget this year that expenses of the chamber may be met was accepted. Pickrell's alternative suggestion of putting him on part time was turned down.

Robert Seamans, of Fullerton, executive of the fifth district, was in charge of the program and introduced Roy Tallison, who talked on Scout organization, and Stewart Wasson, of Santa Ana, Eagle Scout of Santa Ana Boy Scout troop No. 30.

Young Wasson, assistant Scoutmaster, explained his merit badges he was wearing. He had received 21 points to get his Eagle rating. Seamans explained there are 37 possible merit badges to be obtained in Scoutcraft. National Boy Scout week is to open February 8, it was announced.

Ralph McFadden reported on the unemployment situation and on the meeting at the hospital Monday night. He declared the supervisors are making an effort to keep the people out of work busy and are going to have to raise more money either by personal tax or through a bond issue for the work, as funds that have been available are used and about $130,000 is now available from the tax fund.

McFadden found many proponents of the need of the budgets being cut in all public works, especially the salaries of "higher-ups."

"We must do something to care for the situation and to keep 2000 men, heads of families, from starving," he said.

Frank Rosap made a short talk along the same lines. S. James Tuffree asked the chamber to investigate before making a recommendation on either taxing or voting bonds.

The change in the night school arrangement will become effective tonight, which marks the close of the first semester. The trustees decided upon this plan of procedure because of a decreased attendance this year and the mounting expenses.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

PUBLIC ASKED TO AID FIGHT AGAINST CANCER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 28.—(UP)—California's increasing death rate from cancer can be reduced if persons will learn to recognize the first symptoms of the disease.

Such is the opinion of the state board of health in a bulletin concerning the dreaded disease.

"Cancer symptoms develop gradually. If in the beginning cancer was as painful as a stinger, many persons would go promptly to a physician and so receive the needed treatment early," the bulletin stated.

Danger Signals
"Any lump, especially in the breast, which comes and remains for some time without satisfactory explanation, should be looked upon with suspicion.

"A sore that does not heal in persons more than 35 years of age, particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips, is suspicious of cancer.

"Any irregular bleeding or abnormal discharge from any of the orifices of the body is a danger signal which should be heeded at once. Persistent indigestion with loss of weight is a symptom of cancer of the stomach, which is so frequent as to make its earliest possible detection important," the board pointed out.

Death Rate Increases

In any case the person should go immediately to a competent physician for treatment, even though many cases of suspicion of cancer will have been unfounded, it was recommended.

While cancer statistics for 1931 are not completed, figures for the first six months show deaths from this cause totaled 3683, as compared to 3468 during a similar period in 1930. This amount to a 6.2 per cent increase as against the 2 per cent death rate increase from all causes.

In the opinion of the state department of public health, "this disease becomes a greater menace to the lives of persons, particularly over 45 years of age. Next to diseases of the circulatory system, cancer takes more lives than any other disease."

Easiest Way To Break Up a Cold

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Announce Programs For Junior H. S. Commencements

EXERCISES TO BE HELD TODAY AND TOMORROW

Tonight and tomorrow night will be marked by promenade exercises in both junior high schools of this city. Ninety students at Julia Lathrop will be promoted to high school tonight. Tomorrow night the Frances Willard junior high will promote 73 students.

Original plans had called for both schools to conduct promotion exercises tomorrow night. Because the Lathrop school used the Four-square Gospel church for its assembly auditorium it was necessary to advance the date of that school's exercises to 7:30 o'clock tonight, as church services are to be conducted in the edifice on Friday. The Willard school will hold exercises in the auditorium at the new Willard school building.

The program for tonight's promotion exercises at Lathrop school will be:

March of graduates, Mrs. Maxine Bryte.

Invocation, Rev. F. A. Fairley.

Scene, The Lathrop Line-Up Editor and Staff; a review of accomplishments.

Presentation of class for promotion certificates by Principal H. G. Nelson.

Presentation of promotion certificates by Dr. Percy R. Davis.

Pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Recessional of graduates, Mrs. Maxine Bryte.

REGISTRATION IS UNDER WAY AT POLY HIGH

Showing promise of turning in one of the largest lists of students that has been on record for some time at the Santa Ana High school, faculty members and student assistants were busy today on the customary forms, blanks and study lists which usually accompany mid-term registration.

Registration began at 9 o'clock this morning, and if plans go according to schedule, will be completed by 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Lynn Crawford, vice principal in charge stated, but time is allowed tomorrow for registration also as classes are not slated to begin until Monday morning.

Crawford said that the registration system being used had proved very successful in the past, as it allows each student ample time with his adviser to check up on required course, units and data necessary on the high school files.

Records show that 163 new students have given intention of entering the local institution from the ranks of junior high school graduates. Crawford also stated that evidence pointed to a large number of former Poly high pupils who have stayed out for one and two semesters to work would return to classes next Monday. According to D. K. Hammond, principal of the school, last semester's records would not be completed until next Wednesday, at which time the list of mid-year seniors leaving the institution would be announced.

HERE'S PLAN FOR GARDENS FOR JOBLESS

Have you a garden at your home? If you are one of the army of unemployed, here is a profitable way to occupy your time, get a supply of summer vegetables and, if you get started at it soon, receive cash payment for your labor in addition.

The plan is being worked out by the Zerman and Newcom seed stores in conjunction with the Citizens Unemployment Emergency committee's office. The city is helping, too, to the extent that those putting in gardens under this plan will be allowed double the amount of water to care for it at the minimum price. This practically assures the gardener that his water bill will be no higher even though he irrigates a good sized garden.

"Here is the way the garden plan works out," said Robert Speed, executive secretary of the Citizens committee, today. "The person who wants a vegetable garden first digs up his plot and makes it off smoothly ready for seeding. To get the full benefit of our garden plan the plot should be approximately 50 feet by 40 feet. The seed we provide will plant that size garden.

"When the ground is in good condition the gardener should leave word at our office that it is ready and I go out and inspect it. If his work has been well done I give him an order for free seed. After about three or four weeks and the plants are well up he should leave word at our office for a second inspection. If the garden shows good care in preparation and is coming along well the gardener will then get a small check for his work and to pay his water bill for several months.

"Only about a dozen more gardens are possible under the cash payment plan," Speed said. "The money for that is a fund held over from last spring and it is nearly exhausted. But we will distribute free seed and the city under this plan will continue to double the amount of water for the minimum payment for an indefinite period, probably all spring. Every unemployed person in Santa Ana with a backyard, should have a vegetable garden. I'm glad to say our Mexican population is taking advantage of this garden plan very enthusiastically. Some of the very best gardens I have inspected so far have been put in by Mexicans and as the need in some of these families is very keen, the garden plan is of real help to them."

STATISTICIAN DECLARES GOOD YEAR IS AHEAD FOR BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA

Nineteen thirty-two is going to be a good business year! Start making plans for it now.

Such is the recommendation of Edwin Bates, San Francisco, special agent of the United States bureau of commerce, including Orange county, based on the last federal census.

Bates is enthusiastic over his findings. California, second in area among the states, stands sixth in population, fourth in total retail volume, and first in per capita sales.

In other words, California citizens are the best over-the-counter buyers in the United States. In the last year of record they spent an average of $575.73, as compared with $575.12 reported by New York.

In Orange county, Bates' tables showed, the per capita retail sales were $496.65, based on total retail sales for the year of $58,940,000.

The study is available, it was stated, for use in sales analysis and planning of sales programs by California merchants. Bates' office at the United States customhouse, San Francisco.

"As we enter a new year what should be more logical than a thorough analysis of our sales methods and policies with a view to tightening up on wasteful methods and reorganizing selling plans with a sharper eye upon profit and loss considerations," he said.

THREE ASK COURT TO BREAK MARRIAGE

Divorce suits brought by two wives and one husband are on file in superior court, in which charges of failure to provide were preferred by the wives, while the husband who was plaintiff, used a charge of desertion as the basis for his suit.

Eleanor Reid Hoge brought suit against Alan H. Hoge, seeking a divorce on grounds of failure to provide. They married in 1929 and separated in 1931, according to the complaint.

Robert W. Hagthorn brought suit against Helen C. Hagthorn, seeking a divorce on grounds of desertion. They married in Santa Ana in 1924 and separated in 1928, according to the complaint.

Failure to provide was the charge made in the complaint against Ira C. Stout, which was filed by Louise Stout. The complaint said the couple married in 1928 and separated on January 7, 1932.

TOASTMASTERS DISCUSS AUTOS; INDUCT HEADS

That the automobile brought prosperity in 1930, and that the same agency will lead the way in recovery in the business world in the present year was the assertion of C. E. Perryman, in his address before the Toastmasters Club of the Y. M. C. A. at last night's meeting. Perryman pointed out the facts that lowered costs, improved machinery and equipment, together with the necessity for replacements of worn-out vehicles all point to an early revival in the motor trades, and maintained that with this revival will come a corresponding stimulation to all associated lines of manufacture.

The Toastmasters program was devoted to consideration of the automobile industry. Wilfred Taylor acted as toastmaster, and speeches were made by A. A. Brock, Dr. C. J. Riley and Harry D. Riley.

New officers were installed by R. C. Smedley, founder of the club, who called attention to the obligation of the local club to set up high standards of toastmastership before all other clubs, in view of its position as the first and oldest of such organizations. He spoke of the satisfactory growth of the movement, with local clubs being instituted in various parts of the world each month, all of them deriving their inspiration and guidance from the Santa Ana organization.

The new officers are Frederick H. Eley, president; Harry D. Riley, vice-president; D. H. Tibbals, secretary-treasurer and Dean W. Campbell, sergeant at arms. They will have charge of the meeting next Wednesday evening, which will mark the beginning of the new administration.

Open Phone Line Into Death Valley

Death Valley, enshrouded for centuries in desolate silence, was pierced today by telephone voices for the first time.

The famous desert area, the Waterloo of many a western emigrant and now a mecca for winter tourists, obtained its first voice connections with the outside world following completion of a $25,000 telephone circuit connecting the borax mines, Furnace Creek Inn, and other resorts, to the facilities of the Bell system, according to E. S. Morrow, district manager of the Southern California Telephone company.

"Washington's Cabinet," a tableau, will be enacted by Wilson school students, who also will sing "The Glorious Name of Washington."

A flag drill will be done by McKinley school students, who also will sing "Land of Mine," as the final number.

Party Guests Unite In Courtesy to Bridegroom

Post-nuptial courtesies as a rule find their incentive in the bride, but at a clever party given last night in the William C. Darnley home, 830 West Fairview street, the hosts gave their attention to plans for the surprise of a bridegroom, when Charles H. Lamb was made honor guest in view of the announcement of his romantic marriage last June to Miss Maxine Jeffers.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Lamb and their friends found a distinctive wedding atmosphere given to the home by the use of festoons of smilax and many flowers. Tables were arranged for bridge in which prizes were awarded Miss Ruth Ward and Harold Finn.

With the presentation of the bride prizes, Mr. Lamb as honor guest, was given a handsome smoking jacket, the gift of the assembled guests. To complete the hospitable evening, Mrs. Darnley and her daughter, Miss Jessie Darnley, served refreshments at the card tables, laid with dainty linens and given added charm by flower decorations.

Guests sharing the hospitality included in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Lamb, Miss Beale, Mesdames of Pasadena; Miss Shirley Lamb, Anaheim; Miss Ruth Ward and David Dunn, Los Angeles; the Misses Ethel Ashworth, Diana Moore, Jessie Darnley, Dorothy Sparrow and Mildred Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finn; Messrs. At a family dinner party enjoyed Sunday by a group of friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry, 406 East Washington avenue, the celebration of the birthday anniversary of the hostess, Mrs. Henry, and of L. M. Stevens, added interest to the occasion.

Washington Book Reviewed
"George Washington—Republican Aristocrat," a work by Bernard Fay, was searching reviewed by Mrs. J. M. Cloyes before the First Presbyterian church Aid society at that organization's meeting in the church quarters yesterday. Mrs. Cloyes' hearers found her choice of book eminently apropos in view of the approaching celebration of the bicentennial anniversary of Washington's birthday, and were intrigued by the reviewer's analysis of the book's content.

A brief business session followed devotionals, led by Mrs. A. V. Gray. Biblical Background Discussed
Members of the Mother's club of the First Presbyterian church found extremely interesting the talk given by the Rev. F. P. Schrock of that church, on the club's study book, "The Background of the Bible," at the meeting held yesterday afternoon in the church bungalow. Equally profitable was the discussion which followed, in the course of which questions raised by the members, relative to the book's material, were answered by the speaker.

Announcement was made of the work to be undertaken by the club in the next month, and members were asked to contribute to a "second-hand baby clothes shower" for the layette being made by the club, at the next meeting.

Presbyterian Group

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Announcement has been made that there will be no dancing class for Girls' Eboli tomorrow night, as scheduled. Because of commencement exercises and other events it was decided to postpone the meeting.

Due to a last-minute decision of the board of directors of Santa Ana Country club, members of the club who wish to attend the dancing to follow tonight's anniversary dinner in the clubhouse, will not be asked the full price of the dinner admission as was at first planned, but will be admitted after 9 o'clock for a nominal sum per couple.

Mrs. Walters Fetes White Shrine Head At Bridge Affair

In compliment to Mrs. Neal Beisel, worthy high priestess of Damascus White Shrine, Mrs. Henry Walters entertained Tuesday with a bridge party to which were bidden the women comprising the present executive corps of this organization. The affair was given in the hostess' home, 1605 East Fourth street. Mrs. Walters was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Guy Gardner.

Baskets of pink gladioli and yellow acacias enabled Mrs. Walters to carry out a color scheme in these tones, and a similar spring-like effect was evidenced in other of the party's details.

Mrs. Beisel was presented by the hostess with a sugar and cream set which Mrs. Walters had painted herself. Other of the hostess' work was represented in the prizes awarded winners at bridge, a hand-painted relish dish going to Mrs. William Dean, first; a silk handkerchief case being won by Mrs. W. G. Lewis, second, and a hand-painted vase being presented Mrs. J. H. Shaw, low.

Mrs. Walters' guests included Mesdames Neal Beisel, J. G. Sutherland, W. G. Lewis, C. T. Cleland, William Dean, James Vinson, W. C. Patterson, Charles Ryan, Hugh Henry, James Tarpoley, Harry Hoberts, William McConnell, Jack Willey, Walter Wright, George Shipley, Thomas Owen, Robert Evans, J. H. Shaw, R. C. McMillan, Clara Taliaferro, Elsie Bohling, E. E. Darling, J. H. Nicholson, Miss Henrietta Bohling and Mrs. Guy Gardner, assisting hostess.

Mrs. Earl C. Waffle Complimented At Affair Here

The lovely home of Mrs. Charles E. Waffle at 2424 Valencia street afforded a pleasant background for the affair with which Mrs. Waffle and her daughter, Mrs. W. N. Thompson of Long Beach, entertained for their daughter-in-law and sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl C. Waffle of this city, yesterday afternoon.

The hostesses had decorated charmingly with a wealth of yellow flowers and guests engaged in an enjoyable afternoon of needlework before Mrs. Charles Waffle and Mrs. Thompson, assisted by Mrs. Waffle's twin daughters, Maxine and Marian, and by Mrs. James Decker of Long Beach, served refreshments of fruit salad, sandwiches and chocolate.

Invited in to compliment Mrs. E. Waffle were Mesdames Vern Morse, Amos May, Cecil May, Ralph Dozier, W. F. Baldwin, Roy Baldwin, Dee Anderson and Helen Smith, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. D. C. Wetlin of Orange; Mrs. B. C. Moore of Glendale, and Mesdames Zola Bury, Mary Eyer, Maud Manson, Edith Whitel, Alice Ury, Carl Lenne, A. Mollica, Frank Decker and Miss L. Whitel, all of Long Beach.

Daughters of Veterans

With newly installed officers presiding over their first meeting of the new term, the meeting of Sarah A. Rounds' tent No. 10, Daughters of Union Veterans, was held Tuesday afternoon in the Knights of Pythias hall. Mrs. Lena Hewitt was in the chair as president.

Two special guests were Mrs. Estelle Grey, president of the Women's Relief Corps, and Mrs. Lula Hall, president of Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. They were escorted by the color bearers, singing a greeting song to members of the tent. In short talks, Mrs. Grey said she was present in the interest of friendship and cooperation and Mrs. Hall complimented the Daughters on their attention to the comforts of the comrades.

A circular from the national patriotic instructor proved especially interesting to the assembled group, especially its definition of patriotism: "Patriotism means not only the shouldering of arms, and marching forth into battle when danger threatens; but the daily, the hourly giving of the best that is within you to the (wrong) that need resistance to the rights that need assistance) service of our country and flag."

Mrs. Hewitt was presented with an antique vase filled with red and yellow dahlias, as a feature of the afternoon.

Reports included one of the relief committee, which had had an expenditure of $5. It was reported that 27 calls had been made, and that $31.75 had been expended in patriotic instruction. Flowers had been purchased for one funeral, it was announced.

For the next month or six weeks, the Daughters will be without their new secretary, it was learned, as Mrs. Core Hoffman plans to leave Monday, February 8 for Colorado.

Members expect to complete their Memory Lane tree planting in the near future.

Celebration of Fourth Birthday is Merry Occasion

Celebrating her fourth birthday anniversary in happy fashion the past week, little Patsy Jean Billups, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Billups, was hostess at a merry affair given in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. du Pree, 602 South Broadway.

Games of varied nature were enjoyed throughout the afternoon. During the refreshment hour, small tables were made gay with pretty covers and matching napkins in pink and white. The birthday cake, iced in white, and decorated with roses and pink candles, was served with ice cream, candies and other dainties.

From the chandelier came a shower of nats and favors for all, with the pink and white theme of the day observed. Tall pink tapers and bouquets arranged throughout the rooms contributed much to the festive setting.

The little horos received many lovely gifts. The group enjoyed a gala march and sang a birthday song.

Those present included Patsy Jean Billups and Jeanne Wellesman, Billie S'aufer, Jackie Brinkhoff, Jacqueline Cozad, of Santa Ana; Bobbie Lynn Berkey, of Costa Mesa; Colleen Billups, Barbara Joan Edson, Mary Margaret Cook, John Larkin, Virginia Spears, Mary Violet Bathgate, of San Juan Capistrano; Douglas Arnold and Harry Lee Griffith, of Glendale.

Kindergarten Friends Are Entertained at Birthday Party

Master Kenneth Burns Jr., found that being six years old carried its own special joys and surprises, when one of his small kindergarten friends, Betty Jeanne Stevens, gave a birthday party in his honor. Of course Miss Betty Jeanne was fortunate in having a devoted mother and aunt who assumed all the more burdensome parts of entertaining, but the fact remained that it was the little maid's privilege to be hostess to her playmates in her home at 849 North Garney street.

All manner of games provided entertainment, some of them played within doors and some out on the lawn. One of the most interesting features, however, was when Kenneth was presented with an assortment of gifts and found that a birthday could be almost as nice as Christmas.

When refreshments were served, the children had the sunny breakfast room all to themselves, and there were red candles, red rosebuds and valentine place cards to lighten their enjoyment of fruit salad, individual birthday cakes.

News Notes From Santa Ana Schools

Frances Willard

Student Government

The student body of Willard junior high school is reorganizing. The new plan is to become effective at the beginning of the second semester. A group of eleven commissioners, elected by the students, will form the judiciary body. Working under them will be two other groups. One, called a safety patrol, will supervise building and grounds, and act as traffic officers in the halls.

The second group will form a student council composed of one representative elected from each room. This group will meet once a week and in these meetings will be brought up for discussion all matters pertaining to student activities, government, and welfare of Willard. Miss Mary Jane Steel of the social science department has been appointed faculty advisor to the commissioners.

Dinner For Graduates

Willard mothers were hostesses at a dinner given for graduates in the cafeteria Monday evening. Members of the faculty were honored guests.

Albert Pickhardt, H9-2, was toastmaster. The class history was read by Philip Smith, H9-1. Walter Cullen, H9-1, wrote and read the class prophecy. Frank Marr, H9-2, sang two selections. Naomi Sullivan, H9-3, told a humorous story.

Lyle Mitchell, principal, presented the safety committee certificates for the one and one-half years' service.

Service Club Officers

The Willard Boys' Service club held a meeting Tuesday noon in the school cafeteria. Harvey Baker, president, and Gordon Lockett, secretary, took office.

Every Girl's Assembly

The Lathrop opera cast gave a skit of "The Count and the Countess" in the Willard auditorium Friday. Following this the boys went to their rooms and the girls held a meeting. Miss Dorothy Broadway presented some of the high nine girls with athletic badges.

The Seventh Grade Girl Reserves put on a playlet directed by Miss Lucille Robinson.

Welfare Club Officers

At the regular meeting of the Willard Welfare club Wednesday Jeannette Klatt, L9-1, was elected president and Leola Schroeder, L9-1, secretary and treasurer.

Willard Guests

Lyle B. Mitchell, principal, had as his luncheon guests Friday his wife, Mrs. Veda Mitchell, and Miss Mabel Miller, both teachers in the Edison school.

Elizabeth Hemphill of Balboa, former H3-2 student, was a guest at Willard Tuesday, where she visited the social science class of Miss Vera Jacobs.

Honor Students

"If we read the signs right Willard's Honor society will be unusually large next semester," Mrs. Maurine Scott, sponsor, said. There are at present 44 members. Since the grades for the last quarter were given out it has been found that 15 pupils have qualified for the honor roll. If these boys and girls maintain as high an average for the entire semester as they did for the first quarter they will become members of the Honor society. The names now on the honor roll are: Bill Hawkins, Herman Quick, Olga May Atchley, Ruth Budd, Audrey Granas, Ruth Greenwald, June Paul, Hazel Schwartz, Gloria Cook, Barbara Gerrard, Billy Hill, Joe Kadowaki, Glenn Layton, Marguerite Pimental and Joyce Wentworth.

Basketball Schedule

Under the direction of Jeannette Klatt and Evelyn Thorpe as managers, the girls intra-mural basketball schedule swings into its fourth week. An average of two games are being played every night after school.

The high nine team, low nine and high eight teams seem to hold an even chance for the intra-mural championship, according to Miss Broadway. In addition to after-school activities members of the high nine class under direction of Miss Broadway, are working on a dance study to be presented at the graduation exercises.

New Courses Added

Two new courses, Journalism and Dramatics, are being added to the curriculum at Frances Willard junior high school next semester, according to Lyle B. Mitchell, principal. Both are electives in the ninth grade, yet the student enrolling in the classes must be approved by the instructor of the course and by his English teacher.

Miss Ruth Langley of the general science department, will instruct the class in Dramatics. Miss Langley directed the opera, "Who's Who," recently presented by Willard pupils. It is Miss Langley's aim to give to students an opportunity to enjoy the thrill that is in dramatic work; the thrill which awakens and stimulates new power in the child that feels it.

Miss Vera Jacobs of the social science department, will teach Journalism and publish a school newspaper. Miss Jacobs was formerly Journalism instructor in Webster junior high school, Oklahoma City. To give training in Journalism, according to Miss Jacobs, is not the primary purpose of the junior high school newspaper. More important purposes are the motivation of compositions; to furnish a means of teaching the fundamentals of correct English; to afford an effective medium for teaching the value of accuracy, clarity, brevity, and directness; and to provide a type of material that is adapted to the powers of writers of junior high school age. Other purposes are to give school news; to give pupils opportunity to know fellow-students; to create spirit and foster moral, encourage worthwhile activities, serve as a medium of expression for student opinion, furnish means of conveying to others a knowledge of school endeavors and achievements, and standards of scholarship.

Willard Girl Reserves

There are two groups of Willard Girl Reserves, the seventh grade group, and the eighth grade group. The former meets every Monday after school in one of the school rooms, while the latter meets every Tuesday afternoon. Each group carries on projects such as leather work, camp cooking, etc.

The officers of eighth and ninth graders are: Katherine McDermott, president; Ruth Dunlap, vice-president; Barbara Davis, secretary and treasurer; Opal Moore, pianist. This group is under the leadership of Miss Margaret Glenn.

Seventh grade officers are Joyce Wentworth, president; Phyllis Krock, secretary; Mercedes Kellough, vice-president; Jennie Campbell, inter-triangle representative; Miss Lucille Robinson is leader of this group.

Junior Police Meeting

The semi-annual meeting of the Junior Police was held at the city hall Tuesday, when members of the high nine turned in their caps and badges to Captain Jack Wallace.

Those who turned in badges at the meeting were: Bill Twist, Gordon Almas, Wayne Stillings, Frank Marr, Elbert Stewart, Everett Martin, Bob McNeil, Alfred Cliphant, Albert Pichard and Bruce Swisheim.

New recruits for membership were: Bob Cone, Earl Wynick, Mac Beall, Dick Geeting, Paul Bingle, Bill Nowatny, Leonard Maurer, Henry Gonzales, Jack Turner, Bill Twist, Alvin Davis, Francis Ostrander, and Bob Wilde. The meeting was continued with talks by Chief Howard, Mr. McKee, Captain Linbaugh, Billy Flood, Bill Twist and Arthur Casely. Before adjournment a light supper was served.

The members are Jack Wallace, captain; Bill Hawkins, first sergeant; Archie Brock, Wayne Stillings, and Bruce Swisheim, sergeants; Albert Bickard, clerk; Malcolm Smith, Charles Spicer, Hubert Nall, Earl Ruddy, John McBride, William Jones, Jack Ellingworth, Everett Martin, Billy Twist, Alfred Oliphant, Ray Clark, Frank Marr, Bob McNeil, Elbert Stewart, Bill Rouche, Allen Davis, and Gordon Almas, patrolmen. This organization is made possible by the help and time of Chief Howard, Motor Policeman George Boyd, and W. P. Read.

Home Room Teachers Changed

All home-room teachers at Willard will be changed this semester, according to Lyle B. Mitchell, principal.

Miss Lillian Pittz will change from the L9-4 to the H9-1 section; Miss Louise Mans form L7-1 to H9-2; Miss Marian Libby from H9-2 to H9-3; Robert Horn will have charge of H9-4.

MONTGOMERY SEEN TODAY AT BROADWAY

Robert Montgomery is seen today at the Fox Broadway theater in his latest picture, "Lovers Courageous" and again he is the same carefree lover as he appeared in "Man of Possession." In the cast with him are Madge Evans, who has the chief feminine role, Beryl Mercer, Roland Young and Jackie Searl. Montgomery plays the part of a young man chasing around the world, looking for the girl of his dreams and he is seen as a sailor, a member of staid old British society, a clerk and several other roles before he suddenly finds the girl without knowing it and if it hadn't been leap year, he might never have known it.

The film is a comedy throughout, with much heavy love making mixed with good comedy and should be a picture the entire family can enjoy.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Cranberry Pudding and Foamy Sauce

We are indebted to a Mixing Bowl reader for a sum'shus Cranberry Pudding and a Foamy Sauce... collectively and individually, we thank you, dear lady.

CRANBERRY PUDDING

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup sweet milk
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 cups uncooked cranberries
Cream butter and sugar, add beaten egg yolk, whip to a froth, then add milk and sifted flour alternately. Baking powder and salt are first added to the four and sifted twice before mixing into the batter. Stir like any cake, then fold in the washed cranberries, put in a rather shallow baking pan and bake 3/4 of an hour in a medium oven. Serve in squares, hot from the oven, with—
FOAMY SAUCE

FOAMY SAUCE

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup boiling water
Small piece of butter
Pinch of salt
2 slightly beaten egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
Have the water boiling in a small sauce pan, mix the flour with cup of sugar and sift into the boiling water, stirring as you sift. Add the piece of butter and pinch of salt and cook until the sauce is clear. Take off the fire and cool. Beat the egg whites stiff, combine with the cooled sauce, whip briskly, flavor and use with the pudding. (There will be plenty of time to make the sauce while the pudding is baking).

TODAY'S RECIPE

Fried Celery

1 large head of good celery
1 egg beaten with
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup fine crumbs
Salt and pepper
Bacon fat for frying

We've eaten celery stewed and in cream sauce without any great yen to serve it again, but celery cooked, rolled in egg and crumbs and fried to a golden brown, is another story.

Prepare the head of celery by cutting off the top and root, and stripping down the stalks to get the biggest of the threads out of them. Cook the stalks tender, drain, and cut in short lengths (2 inches). Dip them in egg, then in crumbs, and fry to a golden brown in plenty of hot fat, preferably bacon fat.

The cooked stalks are very good, dipped in fritter batter, and cooked in deep fat, but the egg and crumb way is the alder one for most of us.

Something About Parsnips

I quote briefly from an old cook book: "For parsnips fried brown in an old-fashioned iron pot with slices of salt pork and a seasoning of salt and pepper, many good words might be said." The iron pot is almost a museum piece, but there is nothing to prevent the use of a deep iron skillet, closely covered, the cooking done in a slow oven.

The time is getting short for our free offer on the current leaflet, THE DINNERS OF THE MONTH—JANUARY. A stamped, self-addressed envelope brings it to you without cost this week.

Friday: Baked Salt Codfish. If you like codfish, you'll enjoy this way of serving it.

BACK AT BROADWAY

Robert Montgomery, who returns to the Fox Broadway theater today in his latest starring picture, "Lovers Courageous," which will play here through Saturday.

"FANNY FOLEY" WILL SHOW HERE FRIDAY

A picture designed for the entire family, is "Fanny Foley Herself," which comes to the Fox West Coast theater for Friday and Saturday.

Written by Edna May Oliver, the film stars Helen Chandler and John Darrow. A romantic with many laughs, it is strictly a family picture that should appeal to Santa Ana audiences.

"DRACULA" CLOSES RUN HERE TODAY

The entire city is gasping over "Dracula." Universal's strange drama which closes its run at Walker's State theater tonight, and which has created a veritable sensation among local theatergoers.

Never before, it is said, has the screen presented a story which exercises such a powerful effect on the emotions of the audience.

dealing as it does with the terrible depredations of a human vampire and his steadily mounting influence over the very lives of a group of people, combated by the apparently hopeless efforts of a scientific physician.

Bela Lugosi, the famous Hungarian actor, is seen in the title role, and the cast also includes Edward Van Sloan and Herbert Bunston, who appeared with Lugosi in the original stage production of the play. "Dracula" was directed by Tod Browning.

"COCK OF THE AIR" ENDS SHOWING HERE

Another war-time comedy dealing with aviation is "Cock of the Air," which ends its two-day showing at the Fox West Coast theater today.

Past and furious at times, the plot deals with an aviator, who does most of his flying with the woman of France and a French actress who all but disrupts war's preparations with her flirtations with French officers. When the two meet, the picture begins.

Good comedy, with a number of good aerial shots go to make the picture entertaining.

THE TINYTIMES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The cat that jumped the Tines' cart soon pulled and ripped the thing apart. The wheels rolled off, the match box broke. The whole thing was a mess. Although they tried, the best they could do, to save the cat, it did no good. Then Scouty said, "That ends our dandy little cat, I guess."

"Well, then, let's have some other fun. Just watch me make that big cat run," said Duncy. Then he grabbed a spool and rolled it across the floor. The cat surprised them all because it grabbed the spool right in its paws. "It sure knows how to leap," cried Coppy. "Roll the spool some more!"

"I have a better stunt in mind. Well, see if this big cat can find a spool when I have hidden it," said Windy. Then he took the spool and hid it in his hat and said, "Come find it, kitty cat. It will not be so very hard, if you start out and look."

The cat jumped up on Windy's blouse, as if 'twas chasing some wee mouse. This farred poor little Windy and the spool fell to the ground. The cat then knocked it out of sight and Scouty shouted, "He's all right! And now that fun is over 'cause the little spool was found."

Just then they heard a noise outside. In just a moment Scouty cried, "Here comes the giant. I'm afraid he'll make us work some more. We'll be much safer when we've tried to find a real good place to hide." And then, in their excitement, they all scampered across the floor.

A smile broke out on Windy's face, as he exclaimed, "Here's just the place!" He pointed to the oven! Everyone was filled with cheer. Then, as they promptly crawled right in, wee Duncy, with a happy grin, said, "Geel! I feel much better. He will never look in here."

So She Took The $20,000,000

By MINOTT SAUNDERS

PARIS.

YVONNE LE BARON was a girl of strong character, with a mind of her own, when she fell in love with a young man named Spoturno, who was interested in chemistry. For over a year her highly respectable parents hesitated about giving their consent to the marriage, but she believed in him at a time when he was earning only 150 francs ($30) a month.

So she became his wife, June 12, 1900, and they went to live with her mother. Later they were taken in by her brother, who helped the young husband start in business and to develop an idea.

She stood beside him through the long years of struggle, giving the best of herself, contributing much helpful advice and expert knowledge, and remaining loyal through success and adversity, as the family fortunes rose.

Today Yvonne Le Baron is prominent socially and secure financially with an alimony settlement to the value (including the real estate involved) of $20,000,000, the largest ever recorded under the French Republic. The big idea she worked out with her husband has spread to the far corners of the earth and made women more fragrant. It is the perfume stamped with the name of Coty.

Something of the private life of Francois Coty, a Corsican whose original name was Spoturno, and his former wife, Yvonne Le Baron, has been revealed by the recent court action in which he was ordered to pay at once the balance due on the property settlement at the time of his divorce. This amounts to $5,200,000, and the stupendous sums involved brought to public light for the first time, created something of a sensation.

Mme. Le Baron clearly proved she still had a mind of her own when she refused to let her former husband off on the plea that the economic crisis had destroyed his ability to pay. He has vast enterprises and controls intricate companies, with which she was familiar, and she insisted that he keep his bargain.

THE Cotys were married under what is known as the Regime de la Communauté, wherein there is no property arrangement and both parties agree, therefore, to share alike. For 20 years they worked side by side.

He proved himself a genius at organization, but she contributed much from the woman's point of view. She had remarkably fine taste and a delicate olfactory sense which enabled her to decide on perfumes which would be pleasing to women.

Although they started their work in a shed, the business quickly developed, and it was as much her triumph, perhaps, as his. When he was sick, at the end of the war, she carried on the entire work of preparing the formulas in order to avoid sharing the secrets of the house with other chemists.

She was the wife of a very wealthy man, but those who remarked at her fine dress or saw her entering the Bois de Boulogne mansion little dreamed that she was spending her days in the laboratory, wearing overalls. She loved this work.

The Cotys had two children; a son, who is in business with his father, and a daughter, who married Paul Dubonnet, of the wealthy wine-producing family. Dubonnet is now the husband of Jean Nash, the New York girl once known as the "best dressed woman in the world."

But while the Coty business flourished, the domestic side of the family affairs was not so gratifying. These private affairs are kept quiet in France, but the break came in 1922 when Coty took up residence in a hotel, "in the circumstances known to many people," according to her lawyer.

He wanted to be free, and divorce was granted to her at Tours, May 8, 1929, through an agreed-upon arrangement. Shortly afterwards Coty married a much younger girl who had been an employee in his works, and by whom he had had children, but a separation came a few months later.

How Yvonne Le Baron married $30-a-month Spoturno of Corsica, helped him become M. Coty, one of the world's richest men, got half the money when they separated

In the liquidation of their joint property, Coty entered into an agreement with Mme. Le Baron, who assumed her maiden name, on August 5, 1929, to pay her 430,149,799 francs, turn over to her their beautiful home at 24 Avenue Raphael, Paris, where she still lives, and the chateau St. Helene at Nice.

This was regarded as one-half of his estate at that time. There were to be three installments. Two hundred million was paid at once, and 100,000,000 was paid a year later, making roughly $12,000,000. But last August Coty failed to meet the third and final payment when it fell due.

One of the few photographs in existence of Madame Le Baron, first wife of Francois Coty . . . who got the largest alimony settlement ever recorded in France.

IN his explanation to the court asking for a delay, Coty explained that, owing to the American financial crisis, he was obliged to grant delays to the American Coty company, allowing it 10 years to pay off what it owed him.

He felt that Mme. Le Baron should show a like forbearance and that she should be paid the balance due her at the rate of 13,000,000 francs a year over a period of 10 years. He took a very serious view of his financial position.

"I have been obliged," he said, "to pay out $20,000,000, and at a very troublesome time. Were I to pay another $5,200,000 at once it would mean a catastrophe, it would result in a national peril."

This represents the total cost to Coty of the meeting this obligation.

His interests were widely invested in various stock companies. It was, for example, brought out that the Chateau de Montbazou, which he owned, had been sold, with all its furniture and even the cellar, to a company, but that this company permitted Coty to use the building, the furniture and empty the cellar.

THE Chateau of Louveciennes, near St. Germain, which was once the property of Mme. du Barry, was said to have been sold to a real estate company. The 130 millions due to Mme. Le Baron had been taken up, according to Coty's legal staff, by the moratorium he had granted to his debtors.

Coty had started to hedge on the final pay-litigation, including lawyers' fees, court costs, etc.

Coty was represented by M. Aubepin, who was elected Batonnier of the French legal profession after the resignation some months ago of Raymond Poincare, a position which might be compared to that of the presidency of the Bar Association in America. Mme. Le Baron's chief counsellor is Charles G. Loeb, prominent American lawyer in Paris.

Mme. Le Baron maintained that Spoturno—the name used in court—was not acting in good faith, that the bulk of his fortune had been invested abroad, that he was solvent and quite capable of ment to his former wife as early as July 18, when he appealed to the court for respite, but Mme. Le Baron came back with several attachments on his holdings, notably on the two Paris newspapers he owns and controls, the Figaro and the Ami du Peuple. She attached the furniture at the Chateau de Montbazou and took the same course in regard to six companies, or banks.

In declaring Coty "unjustified in all of his requests, ends and conclusions, non-suited," the Civil Tribunal of the Seine stated in its decision:

"Even admitting that the world crisis which Coty invokes may affect his industrial enterprises and cause a shrinkage of the funds he expected to receive from abroad, his request for a delay of grace would further be condemned by a consideration of the fact that he does not justify nor make an attempt to justify that by so disposing of his furniture, property and enterprises which he owns in France, or the shares which they represent, he would be incapable of keeping his contract with Mme. Le Baron."

THE Coty affair, with his vast accumulation of wealth, his stunning alimony payments and his appeals to the courts, has been described here as typically American. As a matter of fact, he owes a great deal to America and the business opportunities he found there.

He is reputed to have sold his American interests for $36,000,000 at a time when the stock of the Coty company was quoted at 60. After the crash he bought it back when it was 20, but for once he guessed wrong (he has shown remarkable genius in business transactions), for the stock is now down to 4. He is confident, however, that it will recover.

In France Coty is a man of mystery. He shuns public functions, refuses to be photographed and only those who have direct dealings with him know what he looks like. He is in his middle fifties, smooth-shaven, and has reddish hair.

He mixes perfume with politics, but has shown greater aptitude with perfume. His vigorous activities clash strangely with the atmosphere of perfume. He says he is a descendant of Napoleon, and many of his methods reflect a conception of what Napoleon might have done if he had been a perfume manufacturer instead of a corporal and a journalist instead of an emperor and national hero.

Coty is an extreme nationalist, hot-tempered and fantastic in his Corsican way. He is quick in his judgments and when he declares a vendetta he goes into it with amazing energy.

He bought the Figaro, a great old newspaper, and uses it to reflect his political opinions. But since this only reached the upper classes, he established the Ami du Peuple and made the price 10 centimes when all other dailies were selling for 25.

THE result was a boycott, forced upon the delivery agency and news-stands by rival journals. Coty showed his fighting spirit by undertaking his own deliveries and erecting his own stands—and bringing suit. He won his case and got damages of nearly two million francs.

Coty placards the billboards with sensational posters attacking political and private enemies, presenting his opinions in the most virulent language, as though his newspaper columns were not expansive enough to tell of all he thinks.

The question has often been asked if he writes himself the articles and posters signed by his name, or merely inspires them, but the answer is that they are so peculiarly Coty that he must have much to do with them.

This man, famous for his perfume, seems always to be stirring up trouble. Many people believe in him, while others smile. His only personal venture into politics came in 1923 when he was elected senator from Corsica, but the Senate's High Commission, investigating his campaign, found irregularities in his election and refused to seat him. Since then he has been proclaiming his views through his newspapers.

With all his forcefulness, Coty is also known as an idealist. He was much impressed by Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris. He made up his mind, in his peculiar way, that a Frenchman should fly from Paris to New York. He equipped the Coste-Le Brix expedition, personally meeting all expenses.

WHEN Coste and Le Brix quarreled after their trip to the United States by way of South America, Coty refused to take sides, but guaranteed to finance both of them with a plane, each of which was expected to make French aviation history.

The non-stop flight of Coste, with Bellonte, from Paris to New York, was backed by Coty. The two Hyphen planes in which Le Brix and Doret attempted to break the world's distance flight record from Paris to the Orient, were supplied by Coty. The man of perfume was deeply moved when Le Brix and his mechanic, Mesmin, were killed in their crash in Russia. And not once would Coty allow himself to be photographed with these gallant men or their machines.

But for all his stormy career, the greatness of Coty lies in his perfumes, and there is seen the influence of Yvonne Le Baron.

JAPAN'S ACTS POINT TO CERTAIN CONCLUSIONS

Yesterday Secretary Stimson made known to the Senate the correspondence he has carried on with Japan. It has certainly been mild enough to satisfy the most devoted Pacificist. In response to the strongest note from the State Department, January 16, when Secretary Stimson told the Japanese that the United States could not admit "the legality of any situation de facto" in Manchurian affair, the Japanese merely voiced kindly appreciation of "America's interest" in the dispute. It is as close to a thumbing of the nose as one finds in diplomatic relations.

The advocate of disarmament finds himself in ambiguous situation today. He might fight for peace. China is the most pacific of nations. It is not equipped to carry on warfare. And Japan is taking advantage of its situation, and of the pacific sentiment in other nations. The ways of peace and conciliation and discussion seem to call for strong defense today, either by economic action against Japan or a demonstration that will leave no doubt in the Japanese mind of the attitude of the United States. Japan is anti-social. It is out of step with the rest of the world. It deserves to be treated with the same force as any other criminal.

The United States has asked Japan to divulge its program. The answer will probably be something more to puzzle over. Psychologically interesting and a thing handed out with the purpose of diverting we Americans.

It is difficult to bring oneself to believe that Japan is actually shelling Shanghai for the significance of that fact is frightfully suggestive of a war involving many nations.

Following and immediately upon the aggression of Japan in Manchuria China resorted to its only powerful weapon, the boycott. Japan threatened China with further aggressions, beginning in Shanghai, unless the boycott was abandoned. China agreed to all the demands of Japan. And still Shanghai is being bombarded today. It is a brazen act, so ruthless as to force one to believe that Japan's program is as outlined by Eugene Chen, former foreign minister of the Chinese government. He says that Japan plans mastery of the Pacific which means war with the United States. Dr. Chen said in part:

"To accomplish these things, Japan knows that she is destined to fight the United States. As a preparation for this inevitable struggle, the occupation of Manchuria is in an effort to obtain raw materials as the sinews of war.

"Her present pressure against Shanghai and the Yangtze Valley, which contemplates the occupation not only of Shanghai, but also of Nanking, is sufficient to paralyze the Chinese government and to force its acceptance of Japan's formal annexation of Manchuria.

"These are the first steps being carried out by the medieval-minded military Shogunate in the form of a general staff which is the real government of Japan.

"Men of this type planned the Chino-Japanese and Russo-Japanese wars. Now they see Japan dominating all Asia, including Australia.

"Between her and this goal stands the United States. Therefore she plans for war. While other nations disarm she arms. Manchuria is but a preparatory step for her greatest conflict in which she hopes to banish forever the influence of Western nations in the Pacific ocean."

Flyers are planning a round-trip from Ireland to America and return. Foreigners used to flock to America, but since the depression they just want to come over, take one look, and fly back.

INTERNATIONAL RACKETEERING

Senator Hiram Johnson has been bringing out, in his investigation of the foreign securities which have been unloaded upon the American public, some very startling information.

International banks have actually paid for the privilege of being the broker to sell bonds upon various countries, which bonds were all out of proportion to the ability of the country to pay. And these bonds have been sold, and found to be very nearly worthless.

In some cases the commercial attaches of the State Department have been factors in the O.King of these loans, and the public is made to suffer, in part, through the aid of our own officials. Billions of dollars have thus been loaned by the people of this country to foreign governments, as well as private parties aboard, which never will be paid and which an intelligent man, who had made an investigation, would have no reason to expect would be paid.

$19,000,000,000 have now been defaulted, a great portion of it by South American republics. There has been $9,000,000,000 of interest defaulted.

Senator Johnson is proposing legislation for the correction of this difficulty, and we are strong for the correction. Of course, it seems that it is another illustration of "locking the door after the horse is stolen," but still there are other horses, and there are other thieves.

The banking groups making these loans always got their money, and in most cases they are holding none of the bonds. In one case it appears that Mr. Obregon, manager for the bank negotiating the loan of $50,000,000 to Cuba, received $500,000 of this money, besides the brokerage which the bank received for floating the loan.

In the Johnson investigation, when it was brought out that this was received by Obregon personally as a "commission," the bank declared that he didn't receive it personally, but it was an "extra" commission that they had gotten for the transaction.

The charge that unscrupulous, corrupt and unpatriotic leaders are kept in office in the Latin-American states, through this use and misuse and abuse of money through loans, where large brokerage is paid to banking firms, certainly has considerable circumstantial evidence supporting it in the facts as they are coming out.

We know that the people of the Central and South American republics have had little use for our citizens. We are beginning to understand the reason for it, when men are furnished money in this manner to keep officials in office in their countries, who are wrecking the countries, and wrecking the individuals of them through abuse of taxation.

From the President down, one would imagine that there should be an indignation shown that would make a thorough house-cleaning in our State Department, and support for laws for the protection of the public.

Washington Letter
Government's Own Reconstruction Load is Heavy Enough Congress Finds, So, Therefore It Can't Finance Cities

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington—This year's federal deficit of two billion dollars has given the government plenty to worry about, but it has also had brought forcibly to its attention the fact that American cities, including the very largest ones, have also been having serious financial troubles.

New York and Boston vainly appealed to Congress that municipalities be allowed to borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, pleading inability to borrow on prospective tax collections.

The plight of other cities, including Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit, have been common knowledge. Although the many charges of graft, mismanagement and over-spending by municipal governments are often well-grounded, the cities, except perhaps in the case of Chicago, are not in bad straits merely on that account. In fact, poor management is not infrequently blamed for the fiscal troubles of the federal government and for the failure of many banks and business corporations.

Nearly all cities and states have excellent records for paying off their obligations on time and their taxing powers and taxable properties have always been regarded as top-grade security. But now they are beset by many defaults on tax payments, deflated property values which make property owners shriek at boom time assessments and the prospects of tax increases and, finally, a slump in the market for municipal bonds and short term loans coupled with unwillingness of bankers to load up with the obligations at this time when liquid funds are considered so desirable.

Many cities which find themselves unable to borrow are really in good financial condition. It is a normal practice to borrow in anticipation of tax receipts, as Mayor Walker of New York and Mayor Curley of Boston have pointed out. Suddenly deprived of the privilege, they become faced with possible breakdowns of city government. Curley reported indications that many banks in New England would refuse to make such short-term loans. He declared that while the reconstruction corporation was designed to support banks, "the injurious effects of the closing of financial institutions in America can in no wise be compared with the tremendous injury that will result if provision is not made for safeguarding the municipalities of America." He warned against disastrous effects of any suspension of health, police, fire protection, welfare and educational activities.

Although many cities have borrowed heavily in prosperous times, the condition of few is to be compared with that of Chicago, whose finances went chaotic some time ago. Usually states and cities are not considered mainly responsible for recent declines in their bonds which make the obligations unprofitable or difficult for the bankers to handle. Nevertheless, municipal bankers have been demanding retrenchments and curtailments of expenses, notable examples having been observed in Detroit and New York.

Congress did not refuse the reconstruction finance bill for support of the banks, but it didn't take into account the burden of municipal financing, either. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania pointed to an already "serious condition in federal bonds," asserting that bonds sold in September at par were now at 82.

Senator Couzens of Michigan, pointing to a widespread condition in which some tax delinquents won't pay and some can't, says it is notorious that tax collections are not being pushed diligently. He boasts that Detroit, after at first being refused loans by some banks and then putting her affairs in order, was able to borrow necessary money from her own automobile refinance and public utilities as well as $7,500,000 from a New York bank only last December. Detroit cut her budget $60,000,000, devised a plan for collection of delinquent taxes and adopted "a program of uncompromising economy to bring expenditures within income."

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TO A JAPANESE BEETLE

The grass that once adorned my lawn
Has now become too feeble-hearted
Another year to carry on;
Its verdant glory has departed
The plants I set in wooden tubs
Upon the porch have never flowered;
Their tender roots your avid grubs
Devoured.
And still your legions multiply;
Without so much as asking pardon
Their greed-directed teeth they ply
Upon my little kitchen garden.
The cabbage plants grew wan and lean,
The pumpkin and the squash waxed thinner.
And we had not one single bean
For dinner.
Each year you spread about the land,
A bold and most unwelcome stranger;
It's plain to me that you have planned
To wrest the produce from the grange:
Tall corn will soon succumb to you.
And presently the oats and wheat'll
Bow humbly, and surrender to a beetle.
The insects which are reared at home,
Compared to you, but weak and few are,
And though as fierce they yearly roam
They're nothing like as fierce as you are.
But you in hordes keep marching on,
Devoid of brain, but still omniscient
In finding food. You're too doggone Efficient.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

INDESTRUCTIBLE ASSETS

We who have been brought up on the Bible know the value of the house built on the rock in comparison to that built on the sand.
We also know, or ought to know, that worldly possessions are not indestructible.
Many more of us have made sure of that within the last two years than ever before in our lives.
But the wisdom we store in our minds, if the job is well done, remains when everything else perishes.
Today there are a great many assets which are still assets, the only trouble being that they are not liquid but frozen, and for that reason unavailable.
But the assets that are stored up in the mind are always liquid, always usable, and always helpful in the time when help is wanted.

I am not preaching that gold is dross, and that wealth is not worth having.
I believe that people ought to get money and save it, that it may take care of them in their old age, and educate their children.

But I know, and you know, that the ability to do useful work, which has been acquired by careful toil, is worth more than the money the ability is able to acquire, and that there will be much more fun in employing the ability than there ever would be in counting its so-called money equivalent in a stuffy room in a savings' bank vault.

When I was a cub reporter I used to take long walks with an old and wise editorial writer, who had been educated in a New England college, and whose education "looked."

He was discussing the utility of some of his brethren when the city papers did not arrive to give them themes for editorials.
"You could look me and the editor in chief up in a room by yourselves," he said, "and we could still write pretty fair editorials." But if those other fellows didn't get other newspapers to read, they could hardly write an intelligent line.

I knew that what he said was perfectly true, and I was impressed by the importance of storing information away where it would be easily gotten at without having a reference library convenient.

Naturally, reference libraries are necessary, for the mind is untrustworthy and has to have the "prompting" of books.

But it must have first the foundation of a sound education and, second, the invention and creative ability to turn out something original, or it will be of no especial value to its owner or to anybody else.

The time will always come to every man when he must depend on himself alone for success or failure in some particular effort.

That is the time when the indestructible assets he has stored up will be absolutely necessary, and when nothing else can help him.

Little Benny's
Note Book
by Lee
Pape

Today was Nora's day off, and ma was getting supper and I was wondering weather to keep on reading Paul Peppy Among the Russian Soviets or go out and see if anything was doing, and ma said, Benny, I want you to go rite to the celler and arrange that dis-kraceful heap of old papers and magazines into neat packages tied with string, so when the junk man comes around they'll be fit to sell him.
Aw G, ma, what do you care for the junkman? I said, and ma said, Nothing, personally. Im not thinking of his comfort, Im thinking of my own, and now are you going to hussle down there and get started or shall I haff to start you? she said.

Proberly meaning with a slap somep lace, and I went down the celler slow and started to unpile the papers and pile them up again neat, thinking, Aw heck, this is a heck of a note, why didnt I decide to do out while I still had time, gosh shang the luck.
And pritty soon I went up to the kitchen, Hay ma, how about if I do those papers tomorrow instead?

If a things worth doing its worth doing today, thats my anser to that, ma said, and I said, Well G, ma, maybe it ant worth doing.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

January 28, 1918

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Darnell and Mrs. J. E. Prentice were among Santa Anas who went to Los Angeles to hear Harry Lauder.

The Church of the Messiah Men's club was formed following a dinner in the parish hall. The Rev. W. L. H. Benton, new rector, was instrumental in the organization of the group. C. G. Twist was named president; John Cubbon, vice-president; Marshall Keeler, secretary-treasurer; H. Y. Evans and Howard Day, committee members.

Rain gages showed less than a tenth of an inch of rainfall from showers during the night. The heaviest was near the county park. This was the first rain of the year, but storms were predicted.

Although Tuesday and Saturday were "meatless" days, Santa Anas were informed that they might buy pork on Saturdays after three o'clock in the afternoon in readiness for Sunday dinners.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE REAL POLITICAL ISSUES OF 1932

The America of 1932 has been made by the scientific mind.

The America of 1932 is being managed by the political mind.

And between the two there is a difference as wide as the world.

One of the real political issues of our time is the devising of ways and means of bringing the scientists mind into the management of America as it has been brought into the making of America.

The scientific mind thinks from facts to policy.

The political mind thinks from policy to facts.

The scientific mind is interested in veracity.

The political mind is interested in votes.

The scientific mind experiments.

The political mind exhorts.

The scientific mind wants its conclusions to be precise.

The political mind wants its conclusions to be popular.

The scientific mind believes in experts.

The political mind disbelieves in experts.

The scientific mind spends most of its time creating power.

The political mind spends most of its time controlling power.

The scientific mind works for more intelligence.

The political mind works for more influence.

The scientific mind is at home in the laboratory where words are supreme.

The political mind is at home in the legislature where words are supreme.

The scientific mind is on the side of innovation.

The political mind is on the side of inertia.

The scientific mind is indifferent to catch-words.

The political mind is in bondage to catch-words.

The scientific mind thinks constitutions were made for life.

The political mind thinks life was made for constitutions.

If a scientific mind appears among the candidates in 1932, he will get my vote regardless of party.

The political mind disbelieves in experts.

ARITHMETIC PROBLEMS

"I can do all the examples but I can't do the problems."

"Why not?"

"I don't understand them."

"Didn't the teacher explain them to you?"

"Yes, but I didn't understand. She mixes me all up."

"What is it you don't understand? It says a man owned a house. You understand that?"

A man owned a house. Seems to you you might get that idea into your head without too much trouble."

"That isn't the example. Anybody can own a house but it doesn't work the example I know that."

What I don't know is how to do it? How do you do it?"

"You can't do the example until you read it, can you? A man owned a house. He sells this house for one-third less than it cost him. You understand that, don't you? You understand that he sold the house?"

"Yes, I know he sold the house. What I want to know is—"

"Don't tell me again that you want to know how to work the example, I'm trying to show you if you'd just listen."

"I am listening but you don't tell me how to work it. She says—"

"Never mind. He sold this house for one-third less than it cost him. You know what one-third is?"

"Yes. It's to divide by three. What do you divide by three?"

"If you would only think before you started to work. Well, he sold this house for one-third less than it cost him and he received eight thousand dollars. You see? That eight thousand he got was two-thirds of the cost, wasn't it?"

"I suppose so but I don't see any two-thirds in the example. How do you get two-thirds?"

"Goodness. Is that all you know yet and me teaching my head off for the last half hour. Here. Give me that pencil. There's the problem worked out and for goodness' sake get it!"

ITALIANS SCORE SUCCESS

On Jan. 28, 1918, the Italians smashed an Austrian drive directed down the Noe and Campo Mulo Valleys and captured 1500 prisoners; including 62 officers.

The Italian success was at once pressed throughout the entire region extending from south of Gallio in the Val di Noe eastward across Frenzela Torrent, via Ber-tigo, Monte Sismol, the Col del Rosso, and the Fonte di Val Bella, to Trenta.

In this series of actions it was reported by the Italian general headquarters staff that the Austrians lost, all told, close to 10,000 men.

When the offensive was well under way, British and French batteries joined the Italians, and an Italian staff officer remarked, "At last we have realized unity of command right in the face of the enemy fire."

OUR NECK AND YOUR PRIDE ARE TWO THINGS THAT SHOULD HOLD YOUR HEAD UP!

A WOMAN'S WEAPONS

"England should make more use of her water power."

"Tell my wife that. She knows all about it."

"Is she an engineer?"

"No, but she gets what she wants from me by her tears."
